Herrera Wins Right To Question Doctor

By STEPHEN COOK

Joaquin Antonio Herrera, who may be insane because he claims his mother-in-law plotted the murder with which he is charged, moved forcefully to his own defense yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

The diminutive El Salvador immigrant, accused of the execution-style slaying of a San Rafael soldier Jan. 10, demanded and won a chance to cross-examine a psychiatrist, who testified he is psychotic.

In an unorthodox shift of courtroom procedure, Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. allowed the 23-year-old San Rafael man to cast aside his court-appointed attorney.

At the close of the third day of trial, Herrera had shifted chairs to sit beside prosecutor Ernest C. Zunino, leaving his own attorney, Deputy Public Defender Harold J. Truett, alone at the defense table.

"I want the record to show this one physical fact — that Mr. Herrera has left the defense table and moved to the prosecution table. This is a real Freudian slip," said Truett.

The shift was prompted by the testimony of Dr. George R. Caesar, the Greenbrae psychiatrist whose report caused two other psychiatrists, who first reported Herrera completely sane, to change their minds and report he is a psychotic of the schizophrenic-paranoid type.

Herrera is a rare case, Dr. Caesar said. Most of the time he appears quite sane.

Dr. Caesar said he based his opinion that Herrera is too ill to stand trial for the murder of Sp/5 Ronald Lee Washburn, 20, on a few statements in an interview April 26.

Herrera said he felt Public Defender Truett did not believe in his innocence, the doctor testifed. Asked how he knew this, Herrera reportedly replied:

"He didn't say it, but I don't need anybody to tell me what they think in order that I know what they think."

"This indicates Mr. Herrera suffers from the delusion that he can read other people's minds," Dr. Caesar said.

The doctor reported that Her-

TIME FOR SALVAGE — A tenant of a tornado-demolished Oelwein, Iowa, hotel retrieves belongings from the rubble. 212-Foot-High Towers Due Along Black Point Cutoff

The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is going to build a 212-foot-high power line into Marin, it was learned today.

The utility firm first must get a permit for the line to cross the Petaluma and Napa rivers from the Army Corps of Engineers, which announced the application yesterday. The corps has jurisdiction because the waterways are navigable.

Structural steel towers will carry the 230,000-volt line 35 miles from the company's switching center in Cordelia, Solano County, through Napa and Sonoma counties to the switching center in Ignacio. The power originates either at Sierra dams or East Bay steam plants, depending on the time of year.

The $2 million to $3 million project will start next year, and is expected to meet power demands until 1980, said Leonard O. Robertson, Marin district electric superintendent.

The utility got a corps permit to cross the Novato Creek in 1963, he said.

The new line roughly will parallel existing 115,000-volt lines alongside Highway 37, he said. The existing lines were erected on 165-foot towers in 1958 and 1962.

Undergrounding the transmission line is possible, but not practicable because of the economics," said Robertson.

New lines probably will not be required south of Ignacio, said Robertson, because the existing lines to San Rafael and Sausalito probably will be stepped up from 115 to 230 thousand volts. He added that this was just a guess."

The towers on these lines are 145 feet high, he said.

Between the Petaluma River and Novato Creek, he noted, the line will be strung on 10 to 12 towers, each 165 feet high, then it will rise back to 212 feet to cross the creek.

The Corps of Engineers San Francisco district engineer, Col. Frank C. Boerger, said the effects of the power line on esthetics, ecology, wildlife and conservation would be considered. Persons opposed to the project may submit their written objections, in triplicate, to the Corps office, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco, before June 2.

Tornadoes Kill 68, Ravage Small Towns In 10 States

At Least 33 Killed In Jonesboro, Ark.

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

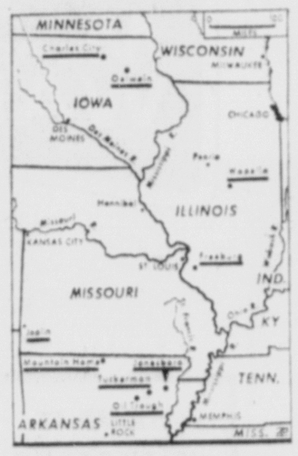
Half-a-hundred tornadoes, spawned by a fast-moving cold front slashed through communities in 10 states from Minnesota to Alabama Wednesday night. The death toll was at least 68, more than half in Arkansas.

Forty-two were killed in Arkansas and 500 injured. At least 16 died in Iowa and hundreds hurt. Eight were killed in Illinois, one in Indiana and one in Nebraska—a youth who drowned while swimming when a twister struck near Omaha.

Six towns in northern Arkansas were ravaged. A twister roared up Arkansas 39 into Joseboro, leveling almost every house along the highway and tumbling cars like toys, wrapping them around trees and poles. Some of Jonesboro area's 33 dead were found in the cars.

"It looks like a group of B52s had flown over and bombed it," Jonesboro Police Chief Jim Hanley said. Five persons also died at Oil Trough, three at Henderson and one at Tuckerman, Ark.

In Charles City, Iowa, where 11 died 18 blocks of Main Street were devastated and half its 10,000 population was made homeless. Three died at Oelwein, Iowa, population 8,500, where every building in the business district was destroyed or damaged.



TORNADOES' TARGETS
Underlined towns hardest hit

The twisters bounced and skipped through Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Arkansas and Alabama as the cold front moved eastward.

At Jonesboro, the tornado smashed the McDaniel Oil Co., one mile southwest of town, sundering its gasoline drums and spewing 20,000 gallons of high-test gasoline into the screaming winds.

Manila, near the Mississippi River, and Russell, Ark., also were hit.

At Oelwein, rescuers were sure the toll would mount.

"There are people under houses and don't know where the houses were," one said. Giant elm and maple trees were uprooted and used as battering rams to crash into living rooms. One man reported his neighbor's automobile was blown away—"he still can't find it"—and the neighbor's Labrador retriever was sucked out of his kennel.

Charles City Police Chief John Gordon looked at what had been Main Street, its structures destroyed or badly damaged for 18 blocks. A home for the aged, completed a month ago and housing 80 persons was partly wrecked.

Cars were wrapped around trees and power poles while some were blown into buildings, knocking down walls. The Air National Guard moved in with rifles to prevent looting, reported before midnight in the town.

U.S. Calls For Ending Propaganda In Paris

PARIS (UPI) — The United States called today for an end to East-West propaganda duels at the Vietnam war talks and for an early start to real peace negotiations that could end the war.

But North Vietnam served notice again it will not even discuss peace with the United States until all bombing and "other acts of war" against the North have been ended unconditionally. The word was : No compromise.

U.S. delegation spokesman William J. Jorden told a news conference, "We would be very happy to get away from public statements immediately and get down to private discussions."

But he said none is in sight.

At the same time a Hanoi delegation spokesman in Paris and the official North Vietnamese Communist newspaper Nhan Dan in Hanoi reiterated the Communist demands for a complete bombing halt first.

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said Hanoi has made no constructive proposals so far that could lead to a peace agreement.

Harriman and his American team have two days to review the results of their first two meetings with the Hanoi delegation led by Xuan Thuy. The next session of the U.S.-North Vietnam talks—aimed at de-escalating the war enough to allow real peace negotiations—is set for Saturday.

Thuy yesterday bitterly restated Hanoi's basic terms for peace. The terms amount to a virtual U.S. surrender. But the diplomats said this amounts to Hanoi's starting position in bargaining, if bargaining does begin. Western diplomats were not especially worried about Thuy's strong words.

Most Deadly Week Yet In Vietnam War

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched strong attacks today north of Saigon and in the Central Highlands as the U.S. Command announced that more American soldiers were killed in combat last week than in any week of the Vietnam war.

U.S. Command said 562 Americans were killed, 19 more than the previous record in the week of Feb. 11-17. The U.S. Command reported 5,552 enemy killed last week, no record, while South Vietnamese headquarters said 675 government troops were killed, their third highest weekly toll of the war.

A U.S. spokesman said much of the American death toll resulted from heavy action in the northernmost provinces, where U.S. Marines fought several battles last week around Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone. The week also saw hard fighting in and around Saigon as American and South Vietnamese forces crushed the second enemy offensive within four months against the capital.

Allied forces reported nearly 400 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed yesterday in clashes from the canal-laced Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. And today there were reports of more fighting in the Central Highlands.

Quakes In Japan Kill 47, Spawn Dangerous Tidal Waves, Fires

TOKYO (UPI)—The strongest earthquake recorded in four years jolted northern Japan today, causing heavy casualties and triggering tidal waves along 600 miles of coastline. It was followed by a series of sharp but lesser temblors, then another major shock 10 hours later, at 7:22 p.m. Tokyo time.

At least 47 persons were reported killed on Honshu and Hokkaido Islands and another 196 persons were hurt and thirteen persons were reported missing. Heaviest hit was Aomori, a city on the northern tip of Honshu, where 32 were known dead including four teenagers buried alive.

The U.S. National Earthquake Center in Rockville, Md., called the first big tremor the heaviest since the Good Friday, 1964 quake that killed 114 persons in Alaska. It put the big one at 8.25 on the open-end Richter Scale. The Alaska Tremor was 8.5 A later quake hit 7.

UPI correspondent Leon Daniel reported from the U.S. Air Base at Misawa near Aomori that at least four American servicemen and four members of their families were injured, most of them suffering broken bones. He said the air base fire department helped extinguish three fires in Misawa, a town of 37,500.

Daniel said high rolling waves were still pounding the beaches when he flew over the area and that farmland was flooded. He

TIDAL WAVE ALERT

Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos today warned all Marin County residents of a possible tidal wave which was due to reach the county coast at 2:05 p.m. today. He said the size of the tidal wave, caused by an earthquake in the Pacific basin, could not be predicted.

The tidal wave will hit the coast in a series of waves and may be dangerous for several hours after the initial wave, Mountanos said.

Jury Chosen For Murder Trial Of One 'Grim Reaper'

A jury of eight women and four men was chosen this morning to decide the fate of 20-year-old Kenneth Allen Preston, accused of slaying a Santa Venetia couple in their house trailer Jan. 12.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson said the case, which took two and a half days for jury selection, will formally go to trial tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales has said he will demand the death penalty for Preston if the jury convicts him of killing Curtis and Shirley Ackley, owners of a San Rafael barbershop.

Ackley was shot four times through the head. His wife was raped, stabbed strangled and shot in what sheriff's deputies said was a bungled burglary attempt at the couple's trailer.

Sommerhalder is to be tried separately in the week of June 10.

Bales has said he will call approximately 30 witnesses in the trial, which is expected to last about four weeks.

French Heart Patient Has Fever; Doctors Concerned

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

France's only surviving heart transplant patient, a 57-year-old Roman Catholic priest, has developed a 104 degree fever, his doctors said in Paris today.

The Rev. Jean-Marie Boulogne had been reported making steady progress since receiving the heart of a 39-year-old man at Broussais Hospital Sunday. Doctors said his fever "constitutes an element of preoccupation." Previously his condition had been described as "strictly normal."

The priest's fever developed only a day after the death of a

WHERE 15 MAY HAVE DIED — Spectators view the wreckage in London after part of a new, 23-story apartment building collapsed "like a pack of cards," according to one eyewitness. Police feared as many as 15 persons may have been killed. (AP Wirephoto via cable)

London Fears 15 Dead In Apartment Collapse

Police at first said at least 15 persons were killed but four hours after the collapse they had recovered only three bodies. However, they said 12 families living in the damaged apartments were not accounted for.

At least 15 persons were injured and taken to hospitals and rescue workers searched for others feared trapped in the wreckage.

The building, one of four built by the same construction company in the area, housed 260 persons.

Some witnesses said there was a fire and explosion in a top floor apartment before the collapse.

A London Fire Brigade spokesman said two rooms in each of the five apartments of the top story fell in. Then one room in other apartments from top to ground level crumbled and fell.

A woman in a nearby building said she looked out her bedroom window just as it fell and "it went like a pack of cards."

Another woman said she saw a fire before the collapse and a dockworker passing by said he heard what sounded like an explosion before the walls caved in.

"I was in bed when I heard it go," said another neighbor, Mrs. Mary J. Ewing. "I thought at first a fleet of steam rollers was dashing by the house."

The building was completed only recently and officials said many of the tenants had moved in just a few weeks ago. It is located in a waterfront area of East London known as Dockland Canning Town, a large working class district.

About one-fourth of the rectangular building, an entire corner, was torn away in the collapse. The living room and bedroom of each of the top six apartments fell away and living rooms tumbled down from the lower apartments.

Court Stalls U.S.-Opposed Rails Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A special three-judge Federal court has blocked —at least temporarily—a merger that would create the longest railroad line in America.

The court gave the government, which opposes the merger, and the three northern railways that want to join forces, until July 1 to file briefs in the case.

STAY WON

The merger of the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroads was to be last Friday, but the Justice Department won a 10-day stay from Chief Justice Earl Warren for the hearing before yesterday's panels.

The merger would create a 26,500 mile long rail system running from Chicago to Seattle and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Justice Department, seeking to delay the merger, claimed there was possible collusion in an agreement whereby the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroads withdrew its objection to the proposed merger.

FEDERAL CLAIM

"We charged that the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad had withdrawn its opposition to this merger in part because it had obtained an agreement from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad —one of the merger partners— that the Burlington would not seek to enter the city of Milwaukee," a department attorney charged at a federal court hearing.

"It was an agreement not to compete," Howard E. Shapiro told a special three-judge federal court empaneled to hear the department's motions to prevent the merger.

heart transplant patient in Houston, the 10th man to die after receiving another person's heart.

An autopsy in Houston yesterday showed John M. Stuckwish's new heart was functioning well when he died of a previous ailment, seven days after his heart surgery.

A spokesman for St. Luke's Hospital said Stuckwish died Tuesday of massive pneumonia, advanced arteriosclerosis and failure of liver and kidneys.

Everett C. Thomas, 47, America's sole surviving heart transplant patient, was reported in good condition today after two weeks with his new heart.

Frederick West, 45, who received a new heart the same day as Thomas, was still in satisfactory condition in a London hospital.

Dr. Phillip Blaiberg, a South African dentist who was given a new heart Jan. 2 by Dr. Christiaan Barnard, was reported recuperating well at home.

No plans for future transplants have been announced, but rumors persisted that physicians at London's heart hospital plan to perform the world's first heart-and-lung transplant.

John Bircher Attacks LBJ's Surcharge Plea

President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on incomes "would hand more money over to venal politicians," the Northern California coordinator for the John Birch Society said today.

Charles Armour, speaking at the weekly breakfast of the Marvellous Marin Breakfast Club at the Elks Club in San Rafael, said the surcharge would push Americans further "into a morass of collectivization."

Armour, who lives in Martinez, said "the world is in a heck of a mess, and there is civil turmoil and revolution afoot in the land today. Let's don't kid ourselves any more — it's too late already — you and I must take some positive action as an individual to stop it," said Armous.

Strawberry Point School Burglary Is Reported

Four burglaries including a break-in of the Strawberry Point School were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Deputies said entry to the school during last weekend apparently was by slipping a classroom door lock. Taken from a cabinet were two cameras worth a total of $115, and camera lights worth $15, they said.

The burglary was reported Tuesday.

Burglars entered an unlocked basement door at 16 Madrone Park Circle, Homestead Valley, entering to steal a $100 transister radio from the apartment of Cara M. Peters and a $100 portable radio from the apartment of Clarice Weiscock, officers said.

The intruders ransacked several rooms, he said, but took no loot.

No Application Received For Teaching Post

Fresno's miniskirt teacher has not appled for a teaching job in Mill Valley, and the district has no openings now anyway, Supt. James A. Collins said today.

Mrs. Kathryn Ann Hasslinger resigned as language arts teacher at Westside School, Five Points, Fresno County, after a controversy with Principal Norman L. Jaco over miniskirts one-to-three inches above the knee.

Jaco reportedly threatened her with blacklisting and loss of her teaching credential after she resigned.

Mrs. Hasslinger's husband, Dennis, who teaches in a neighboring district, will teach in Mill Valley this fall at one of the kindergarten-sixth grade schools.

Mrs. Hasslinger said she also hopes eventually to teach in Mill Valley.

STORM

Guardsmen also patrolled Oelwein.

In the Floyd County Hospital at Charles City, there were 50 patients in the 89-bed hospital before the twisters struck. Afterward 300 injured jammed into the hospital.

"I stood in my office in city hall and the tornado was only 100 feet away," said police chief John Gordon. "It was ripping up the city two blocks wide and I could not get the door open to get to the basement. The windows started popping out all over. My house and two cars were completely demolished."

Four persons died at Wapella, Ill. Two of them, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wendall, were killed when the funnel smashed their trailer home just outside the town.

At Freeburg, Ill., 20 miles southeast of St. Louis, Mo., four were known dead and 51 injured. Bob Kehrer's body was found in a trailer home area. His little son's body and that of another boy were found in a nearby field.

A tornado lifted box cars of a Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad freight train off the tracks near Milford, Ill. The town of Natrona, Ill., reported its grain elevator, its school and the homes of its 50 residents were destroyed, but there were no injuries.

Two tornadoes touched down at Wooster, Ohio. A damaging hail, rain and windstorm hit Cleveland, Ohio, knocking out power to 4,000 homes of the west side.

At least two tornadoes skipped through southern Minnesota. Lightning touched off a fire which destroyed a church, 30 miles west of Eau Claire, Wis., as thunderstorms dropped hail and heavy rains through high winds.

Industrial Output Remains Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's industrial output remained unchanged during April at the record level achieved in March, the Federal Reserve Board reported Thursday.

The board said its index of industrial production at 162.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average was the same as the revised March level and was four per cent above a year earlier.

Marinwood Fire Chief On Carpet

A long-simmering dissatisfaction with how Marinwood Fire Chief James W. Cameron has been handling the three-man department came into the open last night, following a closed session called on the spot by Marinwood Community Services District directors.

Chairman Boyd F. Wells of the district could not be reached for a statement this morning. Business manager-secretary Genevieve Bolding said the commissioners made this announcement after the one-hour closed session:

They are completely satisfied with Chief Cameron's fire fighting and training methods, "But something is lacking in his ability to handle human relations and adminstrative matters dealing with his men."

The department has only two paid firemen, in addition to the chief.

On a motion by Commissioner Guy Baty, the commission instructed the chief to "take steps to improve the administration and human relations in his department."

Chief Cameron replied to questions from an Independent-Journal reporter with a "no comment."

The friction between the chief and his men is believed to stem from routine administrative matters such as logging telephone calls made from the firehouse, defrosting the department's refrigerator, and checking the community center buildings at night.

In the open session that followed the closed meeting, the directors also:

FOLK DANCE — Approved a folk dance program for intermediates on Thursday nights at the community center, from 8 p.m. Recreation Director William A. Gordon said the program will start tonight.

FIRE TRUCK — Accepted the Marinwood Fire Department's new pumper, delivered by Van Pelt and Co. in April, as satisfactory, except for some minor defects in the paint job.

WEED ABATEMENT — Agreed not to slap a lien on the property of Kenneth Ginn on Opalstone Drive because Ginn appeared and promised to talk to Holtzinger Brothers, which abated the weeds, and work out a settlement on the $219 bill.

ADJOURNED MEETING — set an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. May 28 to get preliminary budgets from the fire commission and the park and recreation commission.

QUAKES

said he could see several fires.

For seven minutes northern Japan trembled. Tokyo's new 36-story skyscraper wobbled. A nation that suffered 142,802 persons killed in the 1923 Tokyo area quake and eight other major killer quakes since 1891 verged on panic for a moment.

Japanese scientists said the forces that produced today's quakes may well produce more tremors soon. Dr. Chuji Tsuboi of Tokyo University said only half the stored up earthquake energy has been unleashed.

Aomorie is a city of 800,000 at the northern tip of Honshu and 300 miles north of Tokyo. At the U.S. Air Force base at Misawa, near Aomori, the control tower suffered minor injry, American spokesmen said.

In Aomori 81 buildings collapsed. Relatives dug for survivors and firemen battled flames leaping from ruins. The U.S. base at Misawa sent its firemen into Aomori to help.

Maritime officials said two 7,000-ton vessels were reported driven by the tidal waves against the coral reefs off Aomori. Dozens of smaller ships and boats reported trouble and skippers hurried toward port.

In Sapporo on Hokkaido a line of persons waiting for a bus were knocked flat. The television towers bent over. Men, women and children clung to trees and telephone poles that swayed.

In Aomori, where the tremors broke up streets and opened crevices in lots, a city official told UPI: "Most people, fearful of tidal waves, are still staying atop mountains and hills."

Novato Fire Board Backs Proposed $452,976 Budget

The Novato Fire District board last night approved a $452,976 preliminary budget for fiscal 1969 and cut the tax rate by 10 cents, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The board set 8 p.m., June 5, for the public hearing on the budget, at the main fire station.

The budget approved last night was $56,000 less than the one submitted April 24, Cavallero said, but $18,309 more than the $434,667 current budget.

The proposed budget called for a 5-cent tax decrease. Last night after the budget trimming, a 10-cent decrease resulted, Cavallero said, dropping the tax rate next year to 53 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

This is the second year in a row that the district has decreased the tax rate. Last year it was cut 12 cents per $100 assessed valuation, Cavallero said. The increase in the assessed valuation of the district has made the decrease in tax rate possible, he added.

The preliminary budget had asked for a 10 per cent, across-the-board increase in wages. This was cut to a 5 per cent increase, Cavallero said. This will cost $12,540 additional for next fiscal year.

The chief had asked for four new firemen, but this request was cut to two.

The preliminary budget had two new pumper trucks in the capital outlay program. The board cut one of these from the budget, cutting the capital outlay by $29,000, Cavallero said.

The budget as approved last night calls for $379,996 in wages; $41,500 in capital outlay, and $58,480 in maintenance, according to Cavallero.

In another house burglary, which police said was committed between 7:30 a.m. and midnight yesterday, a burglar entered the home of Frank D. Record, 40 Currey Avenue, Sausalito, and stole cash and miscellaneous small items valued at $141. Taken were $50 cash, Several credit cards in Record's name, jewelry, liquor, cigarettes and canned goods.

AIRPORT IS TARGET

Lawmakers Seek Parking Privilege

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Senate Committee on Public Utilities has given speedy approval to a bill which would penalize the new Sacramento Metropolitan Airport — and all airports, for that matter — if they do not provide free and restricted parking places for legislators.

A battle has been brewing since opening of the Sacramento Metro airport last fall over failure of the airport administration to earmark parking for legislators' cars or those of the legislative sergeant-at-arms delivering lawmakers to the planes.

The committee approved SB 772 by Sen. James E. Whetmore, R-La Habra, which provides airports would lose their possible $2,500 a year in state funds if they did not provide the special parking.

"This bill is simply designed to save the legislators time . . . so that they may leave their committee and floor hearings later and still catch their planes," Whetmore said.

Legislators are paid on a fulltime basis; in addition, they are paid $25 per day in expense money to take care of such things as parking fees.

Whetmore said many entities are entitled to free and convenient parking at Sacramento's new airport, including "police and fire, for instance." He said janitors, maintenance and cleanup people were afforded free parking and said "some people think a legislator's business is as important as a janitor's."

Albert Huber, Sacramento County director of airports, was opposed to the bill. Huber said he had been given a ticket at the airport for parking, as had other county officials.

SACRAMENTO BRIEFS

Assembly Buries Bill On Drunken Driving

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For the second time this month, the Assembly has rejected a bill to make it easier for courts to convict or acquit suspected drunken drivers.

"This will be the end of the bill as far as I'm concerned this session," said its author, Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, after the measure was defeated yesterday.

Assemblymen rejected the measure May 8, but agreed to reconsider it. The final vote yesterday was 39-24, two shy of the majority required in the 80-member house.

The Riverside Republican's bill would have set a limit of alcohol in a driver's blood beyond which he would be presumed drunk. The limit would be one tenth of one per cent by weight. With a content of up to one half that much, he would be presumed sober.

MILKING DUEL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The milking contest between two California assemblymen was an offshoot of a debate last week in which each had bragged how he had to milk cows as a youngster.

Assemblyman Joe Gonsalves of La Mirada said he had to milk cows every morning. Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan of Burlingame said he had to milk them both morning and night.

They challeneged each other to a milking duel in the Capitol lawn yesterday.

Gonsalves was a runaway winner, even though his cow, a sleek Holstein named Kitty, knocked over the bucket halfway through. Ryan claimed he was duped and that Gonsalves obviously was "a rank professional who's been doing this all his life."

MARINE LAUDED

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A resolution has been introduced in the Assembly commending a Stockton Marine — once classified 4F by his draft board — for receiving the Medal of Honor.

President Johnson presented the medal Tuesday to Sgt. Richard Allan Pittman for action in the demilitarized zone in Vietnam July 24, 1966. The sergeant broke an assault by 30 to 40 Viet Cong after silencing two enemy automatic weapons.

Save-The-Bay Additional Time Voted

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate has voted to extend through 1969 the authority of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development commission (BCDC) over dredging and filling operations.

The upper house yesterday uninimously approved the bill by Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, and sent it to the Assembly.

BCDC is scheduled to make its report on a master plan for bay development to the legislature in early January.

Miller said some uncertainty existed that present law would permit BCDC to continue to approve or reject bay filling and dredging projects after it submits the report. His measures spells out its authority.

Unless the legislature acts, BCDC will fade out of existence 91 days after the end of the 1969 regular session.

PRAGUE (AP) — Private car registration in Prague had doubled since 1960 to 78,035 cars, the news agency C T K reported, adding that the number of motorcycles increased by 6,000 to a total of 39,336.

Reagan Bench Bill Revived In Committee

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The proposal Gov. Ronald Reagan says will take politics out of the appointment of judges has been nursed back to life in the legislature.

The Senate Finance Committee yesterday reversed it decision to kill the measure — a proposed constitutional amendment creating commissions to screen and nominate potential judges.

Sen. Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, author of the measure, later learned committee member Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, had inadvertently left the room before the vote.

Schrade told Grunsky he would cast his vote in favor of the proposal if it were brought up again yesterday.

Then Grunsky and Vern Sturgeon, Reagan's legislative liaison, buttonholed other committee members favoring the bill, extracting a promise that they would attend yesterday's special committee session.

Deaf Schooling Bill Approved In Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Emergency legislation to finance an experimental program in Marin County for deaf and hard-of-hearing children won conditional approval yesterday from the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee voted to send the bill to the Senate floor with a "do pass" recommendation, but then held onto the bill pending receipt of revenue estimates from the state Finance Department. The action put the bill in a file with other education bills which the committee has approved, but will send to the floor only after it is certain there will be funds to finance them.

PILOT PROGRAM

The bill (SB 1274) was introduced by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, at the request of the Marin County schools office, which started the two-month pilot program, for nine children on April 1 at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. The program is for children from 18 months to 3 years of age, and is the first of its kind in California.

The program, being temporarily funded by the county schools office, was authorized by the 1967 Legislature, but necessary changes in the education code to provide state financing were not made. McCarthy's bill would correct that error.

NEW NOMENCLATURE

The committee also passed a bill by McCarthy to allow the California Highway Commission to call a freeway a "controlled access highway" if "the public interest would be advanced thereby."

The bill, said Post, "will be useful, according to the Department of Public Works, in limiting debate that needlessly arises because the term 'freeway' is identified with an undesirable kind of highway facility to a segment of the public."

Dinner Meeting For GOP Group

The May meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee will feature a dinner, introduction of GOP primary election candidates and entertainment May 28 at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

No-host cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., and dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Charles Michals, Marin GOP chairman, said the dinner is part of the committee's "people to people program," which is designed to bring together party leaders and workers.

Mrs. Jane Fairchild is in charge of the dinner, and tickets are available at the party's headquarters, 915 Lootens Place, San Rafael.

Kennedy Aide To Talk At Party

Theodore C. Sorenson, former White House advisor to President John F. Kennedy, and now presidential campaign advisor to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, will speak at a fund-raising cocktail party from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan, 230 Summit Avenue, San Rafael.

The party, sponsored by the Kennedy for President Coordinating Committee for Marin County, is part of a statewide "People for Kennedy Day."

On Sunday, Daniel P. Moynihan, President Kennedy's assistant secretary of labor, will speak at a "Champagne seminar" from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Novato Community House.

Leg Fractured

Gregory Milloy, 18, of Pennsylvania was treated for a fractured left leg at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, Marin General Hospital reported today. A hospital spokesman said Milloy was injured in a motorcycle accident and was brought to the hospital by a California Highway patrolman. The CHP had no record of the accident yesterday.

Response To Capital March Pleases Leader

OAKLAND (AP) — Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, successor to the slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., says the turnout for the Poor People's March on Washington has "far exceeded the expectations" of Dr. King.

Speaking at a rally last night in Oakland Auditorium and earlier in the day at a news conference at San Francisco International Airport, the minister declared the marchers would stay in Washington until they get a response.

The new president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference said that while nonviolence was the keystone of the poor campaign, demonstrations would be "accelerated" and greater militancy employed to gain response.

Abernathy said those in the march had taken a pledge of nonviolence and those whom leaders believe won't accept this are sent back home.

Abernathy was scheduled to dispatch three busloads of poor people to Washington today.

Meanwhile today in Washington some organizers of the campaign say it is as penniless as the thousands of destitute people it is bringing to the camp.

"If we don't get more money, we'll have to stop construction," said Rev. Bernard Lafayette, campaign coordinator. But he didn't say when.

Lafayette placed the cost of building "Resurrection City U. S. A." now about one-third completed on the Mall near the Lincoln Memorial, at about $3 million. He wouldn't say how much had been spent, but claimed a $100,000 reserve fund is "just about exhausted."

But construction of the shanties seemed to continue at a rapid pace with no evident shortage of building materials. Some staff members said privately they were not aware money was a serious problem.

About 70 senators and House members held a 90-minute meeting yesterday with Abernathy, and his top aides. Participants who commented called it very helpful.

Afterward Sens. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., drew up the framework for a 15 to 17-man House-Senate committee to meet with the protest leaders and mold specific programs.

Abernathy set no price on his broad goals of more jobs, better housing and an end to poverty. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said private speculation ranged as high as $30 billion.

Abernathy said he was encouraged and added Congress should not delay action.

Demo Candidates' Supporters Argue Stress On Vietnam War

Is the war in Vietnam the only issue in the 1968 presidential campaign? Sen. Eugene McCarthy's man said it isn't.

The representatives of all three of the three major Democratic candidates — McCarthy, Humphrey and Sen. Robert Kennedy — spoke for their candidates last night at a public forum, attended by a sparse crowd of 60, at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

STREETS ON WAR

William M. Bennett of Kentfield, representing McCarthy, struck the McCarthy theme, that he was, at first, the only candidate courageous enough to speak against the war in Vietnam, and told the mostly student audience, "Vietnam is what it's all about. Vote for your self-interest and survival."

Roger Kent, former Democratic chairman in California, said the United States government, and Humphrey, will be in Paris until the war is ended, and it is "time we looked at other vital issues."

Kennedy's representative, William Taylor of San Anselmo, said that political realities dictate a vote in California for Kennedy, who has, said Taylor, "the program, the experience, to get what he goes after." Taylor said that a vote for McCarthy, who cannot win, will help Humphrey at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

KING'S FAVORITE?

The only flat disagreement on facts during the debate was over Taylor's contention that Dr. Martin Luther King said Kennedy is best qualified to be President. Bennett said King never said it, Taylor said he had.

Kent, for Humphrey — Kent said Humphrey is "an imaginative, dynamic, successful liberal" who has a "magnificent" record. A Humphrey-sponsored health insurance program for the aged in 1949, became Medicare, said Kent. Humphrey introduced the Peace Corps legislation, suggested the Job Corps, was a moving force in beginning the War on Poverty, and sponsored the nuclear test ban treaty of 1953.

Humphrey sponsored the minority report on civil rights at the 1948 Democratic convention in Philadelphia, a report which prompted the southern delegation to walk out, said Kent.

Humphrey was working for a negotiated peace in Vietnam long before McCarthy and Kennedy entered the picture, said Kent, and would be a President who "certainly would not lead us into any more of those adventures."

Taylor, for Kennedy — Taylor said that the myth of Kennedy's "ruthlessness," as contrasted to his actual personality, "is one of the greatest discrepancies." He said that Kennedy's personal wealth means he will not have to make bargains to get money, and that the most important word to apply to Kennedy, on the race conflict, the generation gap and other great schisms, "is reconciliation."

Taylor said Kennedy is hated in the South, and is hated by organized crime "because he was an effective attorney general." He added, "Kennedy's symbolism of hope to the American Negro and to the Mexican-American is crucial."

Taylor said, "Kennedy has said there will be no more Vietnams. He has said that we have failed to understand the young revolutionaries."

Bennett, for McCarthy — Bennett said Kennedy participated in "every decision which led to Vietnam." Bennett said, "We're in Paris because of Senator McCarthy. He is rare, unique, appealing not to the low taste in America, but to the high. He is the moral candidate.

"He . . . went to New Hampshire at a time when he was told he would never be elected to the Senate again because of it.

"McCarthy is the only candidate who has said exactly what we should do in Vietnam. He has said it should be negotiated, and if it can't be settled, we should withdraw."

He said McCarthy's recent primary defeats do not mean he is out of the race. "We will win in California, and I think in Oregon," said Bennett. "We are absolutely opposed to McCarthy withdrawing. We think he's more needed than ever now to carry it through in Paris."

Profiles Are Sought For Marin History

The Marin county Historical Society is again asking for persons who have made notable contributions to the county to submit profiles for a book on the history of Marin.

Frank Galli, society president, said he has borrowed from Ray Schulze of Ignacio a chronological history of Marin written in 1947 to help in compiling the society' account.

Nader Sees Folklore Link To Heavier Negro X-Rays

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negroes are getting heavier X-ray doses because of technicians' mythical belief that they have thicker skins and harder bones, according to safety critic Ralph Nader.

Testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee yesterday, Nader said: "A practice widespread around the country is that by technologists and other supervisors of giving Negroes one fourth to one half larger X-ray doses than white patients because of a generalized intuition of folklore."

He said a California study of 90 X-ray operators found that 72 admitted giving stronger doses to Negroes because "their bones are harder and denser, their skin is darker and their flesh is harder."

Nader said the medical profession was doing nothing to remedy the practice and that it pointed up the need for a measure before the committee to improve the training of radiation technicians.

The committee is considering several bills to strengthen federal regulation of medical radiation and provide controls to prevent radiation hazards from appliances such as color television sets.

HOUSING AN ISSUE

Can Larkspur Drive Out Hippie Influx?

Can the Larkspur City Council drive the hippies out of its woodsy community?

Yes, said City Mgr. Kent B. Bathhurst at last night's council meeting, but first the city must eliminate the dilapidated, low-cost housing that draws them.

"As buildings become dilapidated, they attract an element that is a police problem, a welfare problem and a sanitary problem," is the way Bathurst stated the touchy question.

To emphasize the problem, Ronald Glander, superintendent of building and planning, presented a showing of colored slides, shot mostly in Madrone Canyon, showing some of the city's more run-down buildings.

One was a sagging, three-story structure in a picturesque grove of redwoods. From a window on the top story a tree house extended out to one of the Sequoias. In the side yard was a red and white striped tent. On the face of the building was a psychedelic painting.

Another showed a ramshackle cabin in a green little corner of the canyon. "All you need there is a moonshine still," said Councilman Neil Brixon.

Glander produced a map of the canyon, dotted with about 75 red pins. These are the worst buildings, he said.

Glander said the city should begin its attack on these buildings by adopting a uniform housing code, which would set minimum safety standards for the city's dwellings.

Then, when the council added a fulltime building inspector, the city would go to the absentee owners and demand repairs.

"We wouldn't be asking the homeowners to bring his home up to standards, just to repair it so it would be in a safe condition. We would try to explain to him that his home is a hazard," he said.

The council would have to appoint a five-man board of appeals, drawing its members from the building trades, Bathurst said.

Councilman William G. Fleckles suggested coupling this with a more direct approach.

"Many of these buildings are occupied by six or seven people, not from the same family. If we could drive the hippies out by enforcing our residential zoning, then the absentee owners would have no easy income and would still have to pay their taxes," he said.

The council joined the city library board in rejecting an invitation to join a proposed regional library in Corte Madera, saying it can build a cheaper library, at less expense, within Larkspur's city limits.

It delayed any action on the new library proposal, though, until the board of supervisors considers the regional library plan at its June 5 meeting.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

CLOSED—Met for an hour in closed session to consider six candidates for appointment to the planning commission. There is one vacancy now and two terms expire July 1. Continued any decision on the appointments until June 5.

GUNS — Introduced an ordinance prohibiting the firing of guns within city limits.

BIDS — Called for bids, returnable June 14, on the widening of North Magnolia Avenue and substitution of a larger sewer line there. Estimated cost of the project is $92,000.

MAP — Approved final map of the Meadowood Subdivision Unit One.

Marinite Winner Of Sheet Metal Award

Robert W. Alten of San Anselmo, an employee of McPhail's Appliances in San Rafael, has won first place in the first annual Western Regional Sheet Metal Apprenticeship Contest for a copper fitting he fabricated.

Alten, 28, of 10 Kilgore Lane, is a three-time winner of the local apprenticeship contest sponsored by the International Association of Sheet Metal Workers, Local 75, in Vallejo, to which he belongs. Alten becomes a sheet metal journeyman next month.

Controlled Grass Fire Seen By Many

A controlled grass fire in northwestern San Rafael was seen by many residents of the city today.

Firemen said the unidentified owner of property at 25 Valley View Avenue had a permit to burn a pile of grass and brush. Smoke from the fire reportedly drifted toward downtown San Rafael shortly after 7 a.m.

Extension Of Runway By Year's End

Taxiway and runway extensions at the Marin County Airport north of Novato will be completed by the end of this year, Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported to the Marin Aviation Commission last night at Civic Center.

However, Frost said the lighting of the runway and taxiway extensions still requires a county contribution of about $22,000 to match federal funds. The aviation commissioners voted to ask the board of supervisors to include the lighting cost in the 1968-69 budget.

The Federal Aviation Administration last month approved $61,878 in federal funds for the runway and taxiway extensions and lighting.

The Marin Aviation Commission also:

FUTURE EXPANSION — Appointed Commissioner Ray W. Foreaker Jr. and Airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr to review the present master plan to see if additional land is needed for a crosswind runway. Torr estimated that 50 to 70 acres would be needed for such a runway.

SAFETY FENCE — Asked the county to include in the new budget about $1,500 for a chain link fence between the vehicle parking area and the airfield apron for safety.

CONTROL TOWER — Asked Torr to proceed with an application to FAA, asking for a study of a control tower installation.

TETRAHEDRON — Commended Torr for getting a tetrahedron, a 60-foot long wind direction indicator, from Hamilton Air Force Base free of charge. The cost to build one at the airport would be about $4,000 to $5,000, said Torr. He said the problem now is to transport the tetrahedron from Hamilton to the airport.

HAMILTON COMPLEX — Heard Commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind explain the possibility of a parallel strip at Hamilton for commercial use. Ostlind said that considerable private financial interest must be generated before such a parallel strip can be considered.

THE CLAN ARRIVES

Kennedy Brings Drive To State

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blitz-like campaign to win the crucial June 4 California presidential primary election is under way by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, members of his family and prominent friends.

Kennedy took his campaign to the Los Angeles area, Sacramento, Davis and Eureka today, before heading to Oregon for two days of campaigning for the primary there.

He and his entourage return Saturday for a "People for Kennedy" day capped by the Democratic senator's address to a $100-a-plate dinner in San Francisco Saturday night.

Others will include astronaut John Glenn, former presidential adviser Ted Sorenson and John D. Rockefeller IV, nephew of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Republican.

Upon his arrival last night in Los Angeles, Kennedy said he and McCarthy should join forces to make sure Vice President Hubert Humphrey — representing "the forces of the status quo" — doesn't carry away the nomination.

McCarthy, although admitting he did not do as well as he hoped in Nebraska, said, however, he's in the race to stay.

A gala featuring Kennedy and prominent Hollywood entertainers will be held in the Los Angeles Sports Arena next Saturday. Carmen Warschaw, former Southern California Democratic chairman and gala chairman, said the event is designed to raise $600,000 for the Kennedy campaign.

Meanwhile, McCarthy's next visit to California is scheduled to be a one-day tour through Redding, Chico, San Jose, Hayward and San Francisco next Wednesday. McCarthy will speak at San Francisco's Cow Palace that night.

Playwright Edward Albee, author of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" arranged campaigns on McCarthy's behalf in San Francisco and Los Angeles today.

At stake in the primary are 174 delegate votes at the convention. Voters will be able to vote specifically for either Kennedy or McCarthy.

There also is a third slate of the "regular" Democratic organization which had been pledged to President Johnson but was left without a candidate by his withdrawal. The slate has not come out for or anyone else and the vice president has not sought its support.

Also on the California political scene:

Preston Hotchkis, chairman of the Southland Water Committee, announced a drive to enlist water leaders throughout the state to help re-elect Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif.

State Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, seeking the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate, called on Congress to implement immediately recommendations of the president's riot commission.

Democratic Senate candidate Alan Cranston called on federal officials to replace "inadequate and inefficient" weapons used to deal with civil disorders. The former state controller said night sticks and hand guns should be replaced with nonlethal weapons in dealing with mobs.

Tower Wrecking Suspect Is Sued

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has sued the man accused of wrecking one of its power towers for $78,400 in damages.

PG&E sued in San Mateo County Superior Court yesterday for $28,400 to pay for the tower and $50,000 in punitive damages from Dale Morrow, 27, who said he used one of PG&E's own bulldozers to wreck the tower last April 4 as a protest against the war in Vietnam.

There was no indication in the suit that PG&E was charging him for the use of the bulldozer.

ALIOTO SEES MINNESOTAN OUT OF RACE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph Alioto says the results of the Nebraska primary "established that Sen. Eugene McCarthy . . . is out of the race" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Alioto, a backer of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, said yesterday Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's heavy victory in the primary had no effect on Humphrey's chances because the vice president wasn't on the ballot.

Burning Proposed As Answer To Garbage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A city-county supervisor says he has the answer to San Francisco's garbage disposal problem: burn the garbage to produce electric power, saving money in the process, and without air pollution danger.

John A. Ertola said yesterday such a plant would cost about $17 million and add about 20 cents a month to the average San Francisco family's disposal bill.

McCarthy Aides Say Brown Ready To Back Minnesotan

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Sen. Eugene McCarthy's close lieutenants are claiming he is about to gain a headline accession — former California Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown.

According to the McCarthy grapevine, Brown will declare for the Minnesotan "in a few days."

If that does happen, it could help McCarthy in California's potentially fateful June 4 primary, particularly in the northern part of the state which has been Brown's main political base.

For Brown to declare for McCarthy would mean bolting the Johnson slate of convention delegates he was active in organizing early this year. The slate is headed by Attorney General Thomas Lynch. Since the president's surprise announcement that he would not seek another term, there has been no move on the part of Lynch, Brown and other leaders of the slate to switch to Humphrey.

Kennedy sources are putting out the word that Johnson-Humphrey forces are throwing their weight to McCarthy as part of a backstage "stop Kennedy" strategy.

It is authoritatively known that strenuous efforts are being made to swing ex-Governor Brown to McCarthy. Reputedly, his son, who has been a McCarthy supporter from the start, is active in this endeavor.

In Santa Barbara last week, Brown told newsmen he would choose between Senators Kennedy and McCarthy before the primary. But he carefully gave no hint of his possible choice, pointing out that he has long been a warm admirer of Humphrey, thinks highly of McCarthy, and feels indepted to Kennedy, who campaigned for him in 1966 when he unsuccessfully sought a third term.

Changes Location

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission will meet in the pavilion at 8 p.m. June 4 instead of in the Fairfax Women's Club because the club will be used as a polling place in the primary, clerk Frances Lestanguet said.

Representatives Of Candidates To Talk In Tiburon

Representatives of three Democratic presidential candidates will discuss their candidates at 8 p.m., May 21, in the multi-purpose room at Del Mar School, Tiburon.

Theh forum will be sponsored by the Tiburon Democratic Club.

The speakers will be Roger Kent of Kentfield for Vice President Hubert Humphrey; Joseph R. Grodin, San Francisco attorney and chairman of the Northern California chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action, for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, and Frank Mankewiecz, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's press secretary.

Homestead Club To Hear Candidates

The Homestead Valley Improvement Club has set a candidates' night for Third District supervisorial candidates for 7:45 p.m. Tuesday at Brown's Hall, 309 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Candidates are Michael Wornum, Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., Margaret Azevedo, Carl Hepp, Bernardino A. Farlatti and Donald J. O'Leary.

GOP Governors Take New Look At Reagan

HONOLULU (AP) — The Republican governors of the western states are taking a new look at the presidential prospects at their most glamorous colleague, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

"Without any substantial effort, there is seemingly strong support for Governor Reagan," said Gov. John Love of Colorado, who is not committed to any candidate.

Nevada's Gov. Paul Laxalt, also uncommitted, said Reagan's vote in the Nebraska primary—22 per cent—"represents great potential strength in view of the fact that he didn't even campaign there personally."

Laxalt and Love commented on Reagan's future at the close of the four-day Western Governors Conference yesterday, a meeting dominated by behind-the-scene election year politics.

Reagan captured the spotlight. In three days, his political aids scouted the western chief executives for signs of support and Reagan, himself, met with Leonard Hall, a political advisor to New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Both said it was a social meeting.

When the conference was over, Love said he detected a change in Reagan's attitude toward the presidency. The governor, he said, was no longer trying to discourage Reagan-for-president groups springing up around the nation.

"At first he and his staff actually discouraged these organizations," Love said. "It is my opinion that he is not now discouraging the movement in Oregon."

Oregon's May 28 primary provides a crucial test for Reagan. He is competing against former Vice President Richard Nixon. Reagan refuses to campaign in Oregon, but his supporters there are waging a well-financed television campaign on his behalf.

Kettenhofen Coffee

A coffee for Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, seeking re-election to a second term in the Second District, will be held at 8 p.m. May 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donohue, 156 Oak Springs Drive, San Anselmo.

Herrera Wins Right To Question Doctor

rera also said: "Would you believe I could know what is happening outside this place without being there?"

He said he learned this power while with the Rosicrucians, an esoteric and philosophical society. This is another example of delusionary thinking, Dr. Caesar said.

Finally, the doctor said, there was this exchange:

Herrera: "Would you believe that a person can kill another without using his hands?"

Doctor: "Do you mean you can kill by thought?"

Herrera: "Could be. That's why it's ridiculous to charge me with killing this man with a gun. I could do it without a gun. God has given me the power to do great things. I have never used that power to do evil things."

All these statements are the delusions of a psychotic, Dr. Caesar said.

Herrera also told the doctor that the man who was murdered had a sexual relationship with Herrera's wife "some time ago," the doctor said.

Herrera described the killing in this fashion, Dr. Caesar said:

In the middle of the night, a man knocked on his door and confronted him with a gun. He forced Herrera and his wife to come to the vacant lot near their apartment.

The murder victim was at the lot. With a second gun, the killer forced Herrera to place his finger prints on the murder weapon. Then he took the gun back and shot Washburn.

The man, who Herrera believes was hired by his mother-in-law, then threatened the young couple with their lives if they told of the killing.

"This seemed highly implausible and tended to confirm my impression that he was psychotic," Dr. Caesar said.

At this point in the third day of the trial, Truett told Judge Goldstein that Herrera wanted to move beside Zunino, so that the prosecutor could cross examine the doctor for him.

"Repeatedly, for the last two and a half hours, Mr. Herrera has been telling me he wants Mr. Zunino. Now he wants to talk to Mr. Zunino or ask the questions himself."

Herrera told the judge: "There are some statements that, to the best of my knowledge, are inaccurate. It has been a misunderstanding. The only way I can clear it up is to cross-examine Dr. Caesar. He has said some half truths."

Judge Goldstein suggested that Herrera have his attorney ask the questions. Herrera said: "It is not convenient for Mr. Truett for the jury to find me sane. If I am found legally insane, I would be confined in a mental institution. The problem is for me to prove that I am sane."

After pondering the question, Judge Goldstein announced: "There is a definite conflict between Mr. Herrera and the public defender. We have a unique situation arising here in which the defendant wants to prove his sanity, yet his attorney thinks it in his best interest to be found insane.

"And I don't think its appropriate for the district attorney to be put in the double position of both prosecutor and defense attorney."

The judge stopped the proceeding after Herrera had cross examined Dr. Caesar for approximately half an hour.

In seeking to discredit the doctor's testimony, Herrera's technique was to ask a question, then assert that the doctor was incorrect when he had answered.

As the rules of cross-examination became laxer, the doctor at one time turned to the judge and asked if he could ask Herrera a question.

When the session closed, Judge Goldstein told Herrera he is incompetent as an attorney. From now on, if he wants questions asked he must write them out for the judge to ask, he said.

Prison On Bogus Money Scheme

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. District Judge Stanley A. Weigel has sentenced a Healdsburg accountant to two years in prison in a scheme involving $1 million in bogus bills.

"I'm deeply ashamed of myself," said James A. Steele, 45, in court yesterday.

Two other men convicted in the scheme, Larry Anthony, 40, and Keith Buell Jr., 23, both of San Francisco, will be sentenced June 4.

Mill Valley Poll Shows Dislike For New Grades

A telephone survey of 273 parents of children in Mill Valley's Alto School showed 56 per cent opposed to recently adopted changes in instruction methods and grading, the Mill Valley Citizens Concerned for Education reported today.

Mrs. Betty Weir, who made the survey, said the parents were asked how they felt about their children's education this year, and what they think of the new grading system (which abolished A-B-C grading. She said 143 preferred former methods, 84 were wholly in favor of the new system, and 12 were "on the fence."

Three of the 143 dissenters have removed their children from Alto School and placed them in private schools, she reported. Seventeen have moved or plan to move from the Mill Valley School District.

Car Tangle Hospitalizes Three Persons

Three persons were injured yesterday when three cars tangled on East Blithedale Avenue, at the west end of the Alto overpass.

All three were reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital. One driver, Michale R. Kupperberg, 19, of 74 Cornell Avenue, Larkspur, had multiple cuts, bruises and scrapes. Another driver, William R. Gale, 46, of Santa Rosa, suffered a fractured left arm, multiple face cuts and multiple body cuts and bruises. His wife, Vera, 44, had a fractured right leg and right wrist, and face cuts.

Gale's southbound car, according to the California Highway Patrol, left the freeway at 10:45 a.m. entering East Blithedale Avenue in the path of a car driven by Marion T. Rayborn 41, of 32-D Circle Drive, Tiburon. Gale's car then crossed the center divider and collided head-on with the Kupperberg car, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Rayborn escaped injury.

Arrest Leads To Marijuana Charge

A 19-year-old Lagunitas girl, arrested early this morning by Corte Madera police on a criminal warrant, was charged with possession of marijuana when a routine search at the Marin County Jail uncovered a substance which appeared to be marijuana.

Bail for Sara Sanz Howard of Dock 66 was set at $250 for the marijuana charge and $575 for a hit-and-run warrant which was issued in March by Marin Municipal Court for an accident in Sausalito on Feb. 11.

Corte Madera police said an officer noticed Miss Howard and two companions walking along Madera Boulevard near Highway 101 at 3:30 a.m. The three were stopped for questioning and a subsequent routine check uncovered the warrant for Miss Howard. Her two companions were not held.

Student Arrested In Sale Of Marijuana

A 24-year-old College of Marin student was arrested in his Kentfield apartment yesterday only minutes after police said he made a $50 marijuana sale to an undercover agent.

Booked in county jail for investigation of possession of marijuana and making three different marijuana sales during the past month was Ronald Thomas Faircloth, 818-A College Avenue.

He was held in lieu of $2,500 bail.

Agents for the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau said they learned Faircloth, who said he was a business manager for a band, had been making a few sales. An agent made two recent purchases at Faircloth's apartment, they said, then yesterday made the buy of about half a pound of manicured marijuana.

Agents declined to disclose the amounts of the other sales, and said it was not learned whether Faircloth has been selling to College of Marin students, or others. Scope of his operation was not learned, either, they said, nor the source of the marijuana.

Officers said a sheriff's inspector and two other agents joined the undercover agent to arrest Faircloth at his apartment after yesterday's sale about 2 p.m. They said they also found less than a pound of marijuana in Faircloth's front room.

The confiscated substances are being sent to the state narcotics laboratory in San Francisco for analysis, they said. Faircloth was scheduled for appearance in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

$43 Million Budget Hike Is Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Board of Supervisors, unanimously and with virtually no debate yesterday adopted a record $488.2 million budget for 1968-69.

The figure is $43 million higher than the current budget, which also was a record.

Most controversies had been settled in public hearings and private discussions. The budget as finally adopted, however, was almost $300,000 more than the one approved by the finance committee.

The additions included tuberculosis clinics, a day treatment center, another administrative assistant for Mayor Joseph Alioto, library books and cataloguing the Brundage collection of Chinese art.

Bill To Prevent Commute Tax Sent To Floor

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill designed to block San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposed "commuter tax" awaited action today on the Assembly floor.

The measure, by Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, won approval of the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee yesterday.

It would prohibit San Francisco from levying a tax on the earnings of suburbanites who work in the city unless a similar tax was imposed on residents of the city.

"Any unnecessary barriers which impede the mobility of citizens of this state or limit their choice of employment are contrary to state policy," Mulford said.

$2 Million Voted To Buy Muni Rail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors voted $2 million yesterday to buy new equipment for the San Francisco Municipal Railway, but called for another look at proposals to increase fares to 25 cents.

The $2 million could be the first installment on a proposed replacement program that would cost about $51 million.

The Public Utilities Commission recommended a 10-cent increase in fares. The supervisors called for study of a 5 - cent boost.

Tomales Unification Plan Aired, Including Tax Rate

The Marin County School District Organization Committee last night held a hearing at Tomales High School on the Tomales unification proposal.

The proposal to unify all schools in the Tomales High School District, will be on the June 4 ballot. The state Education Code requires that a hearing be held no less than 10 days before the election.

Basic elements of the proposal were discussed, including the election of trustees-at-large from the seven trustee areas in the district, leveling of bonds and the proposed tax rate of $3.07 for the district, based on the 1968-68 assessed valuation, according to Deputy County Supt. of Schools Charles E. McCully.

After the hearing, the committee agreed to a request from the Sonoma County School District Organization Committee to transfer five parcels of land from the Harmony School District to Sonoma County to the Bodega Bay District, according to McCully. The land has an assessed value of about $100,000. Final action on the transfer will rest with the Sonoma County Board of Education, McCully said.

Budget Talk Date

The Muir Beach Community Services District Board agreed last night to discuss the 1968-69 budget at its meeting at 8 p.m. June 19 at Muir Beach Tavern. No tentative budget figure has been set, Mgr. Charles S. Graham said.

Four Cited In Marijuana Case

Four teen-agers arrested Tuesday when a cigarette believed to be marijuana was found near their car have been cited to the sheriff's juvenile bureau for being present where marijuana was being used.

Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau agents today said the four, three from Terra Linda and one from San Rafael, were found in the parked vehicle on Lucas Valley Road near Mount McKinley Road about 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Investigation disclosed one partially smoked cigarette apparently thrown out the car window, agents said, and marijuana seeds in the vehicle's back seat. The youths, of ages from 15 to 17, were released to their parents.

Variance Approved

A variance application by Milton Cohn of 226 Sausalito Street, Corte Madera, to enclose an existing garage and to construct a carport was approved by the Corte Madera Board of Adjustments last night, Mrs. Betty Long, board secretary, reported.

Petaluman Dies Of Crash Injuries

A 37-year-old Petaluma man died today of head injuries suffered when his station wagon rolled over on Highway 101 north of Novato last Wednesday.

The victim, Johnny S. Martino, a worker at the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard in San Francisco, became the 10th fatality in Marin traffic accidents this year, three less than at this time in 1967.

Martino died at 1:35 a.m. in Marin General Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol said Martino was thrown from his auto when it left the highway two miles north of Atherton Avenue, struck a railing, rolled over three times and dropped down an embankment.

Survivors include his wife, Carol.

The body was taken to Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

The birthstone for the month of October is the opal or tourmaline.

Steven S. Adams, 21, of 8 Locust Street, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts, bruises and scrapes.

A car driven by Ronald B. Johnson, 20, of 301 Poplar Avenue, Mill Valley, veered over the double lines at 12:55 p.m. and hit Adams' car head-on, west of Sequoia Valley Road, according to the California Highway Patrol. Firemen from Tamalpais Valley Fire Department gave Adams first aid before an ambulance arrived.

HAPPY IRISH HAPPENING

The Northgate Group of the Marin Art and Garden Center had its annual Market Day yesterday with "An Irish Country Fair" theme. Left, the ladies look over the plants at the Shamrock Center Booth. Other booths named to carry out the Irish theme were Peddler's Packs where soft goods were available. Wee Fey Fair featured children's toys and games. At Tipperary Treasure an assortment of jewelry caught many a lady's fancy, as did the paper flowers at Finnagin's Fancy. Center, Mrs. Patrick Foster of Ross, left, president of the Northgate Group, assists Market Day co-chairman, Mrs. Edgar Garbini of Kentfield, who is choosing some Watsonia from the assortment of flowers on the Connemara Cart.

WHAT DO you do with a Blarney Stone? Two-year-old Kathleen Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hubbard of San Anselmo, seems uncertain. Maybe there is a leprichaun under it, but at any rate the little Coleen is not going to kiss it without a thorough examination.

Marin Debutante Is Honored At Large San Francisco Tea

By MOLLY MARIN

Several hundred friends and relatives attended the tea at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco yesterday in honor of Marin deb Mary Ellen Merryman, hostessed by her mother.

In the receiving line with the deb and her mother were her great-aunt, Mrs. J. Robert Deel, and her aunt, Mrs. Colonel Betz, both of Hillsborough. The club was decorated with ivory roses, lilies of the valley and peonies in dark green baskets and maple trees, and the Merrymans received guests before the fireplace and an ivy-covered trellis.

Hostesses were Mesdames Fred Herrington, Robert Grady, Arthur Feidler, Curtis Knowles, Edward Grady, Irving Lyons and John DeMaria, all of Marin, and Mrs. Sheldon Griffin of San Francisco. Pouring tea were Mesdames Gordon Chambers, William Waste, Stephen Bechtel Jr., Harvey Waste, William Haney, Wallace Scott, Leon Smith, Edgar Garbarini, Frank Paganini, Edwin Burmester, Aman Simenstad and Albert Gray.

A graduating senior at San Domenico, Mary Ellen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Merryman of San Rafael. She will be among the 21 girls who will bow Dec. 21 at the Marin Debutante Ball.

DR. AND MRS. Edmund Mahon of Mill Valley will be hosts Sunday to some 80 guests at their annual brunch. This will be the 32nd year for the party which is usually held on Easter, but was postponed this year.

MR. AND MRS. Cecil Riordan of San Rafael will entertain at a supper party following the Family Trophy Ball Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of Junior Cotillion of Marin, the sponsor of the ball. Planning to attend the ball and supper party are Dr. and Mrs. James Cermak and Messrs. and Mesdames Steve Hall of Novato, Maurice Machanich and William C. McDuffie of San Rafael, and Ursula McCarthy and her family; E. J. Mulligan of Millbrae; T. C. O'Neil, Thor Nyman, and Mrs. Doris Gray of San Francisco, and Mrs. Gary Smith of Corte Madera. Mrs. Frohlich's daughter.

THE ROBERT Carrows of Novato and W. O. Weissiches of San Rafael have returned from the American Trial Lawyers' four-day convention at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas.

Computer To Keep House In 15 Years?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — You thought that the 1960's were the age of the plastics? Then wait until the 1980's.

What the scientists were predicting 15 years ago in this world of the man-made everything now has come about and again they're looking into the next 15 years. And they're not fooling.

Along with plastics, the computerized method of housekeeping will have taken over in another 15 years, they say.

"THE MOST revolutionary aspect of all of tomorrow's household design will be a central computer controlling all systems of the house-lighting, entertaining, appliances, communications, and so on. Plastics come in for a big share of this kind of thinking." So say the forecasters, the editors of the trade publication Modern Plastics.

They foresee plastic appliances popping out of walls on command, plastic appliances cleaning the house, washing clothes, making the beds, cooking the meals.

And spanking Junior when he misbehaves? Or diapering the baby?

The year 1980 "will bring planned obsolescence in building. The idea is to plan the the lifespan of kitchens and bathrooms beforehand—so they can be designed as a one-piece plastics unit slipped into the frame of the house and removed just as easily when components have worn out or have become out of style." Hear ye, Betty Furness.

"Before going to bed in the evening," the publication continues, "the housewife of the 1980's will press a series of buttons to program on tape all her needs for preparing and serving food, for cleaning, for shopping . . ."

"SHE'LL BE able to see her purchases in three dimensions on a plastic screen."

And the computer will take care of the delivery and even the payment.

The publication's team of editors sees changes in interior decoration to suit the family's mood, changing even the wall coverings by pressing a button. The furnishings will be made of plastic, built into the home, left with the building when the family moves.

If all of this brave new world sound pipe-dreamish, the publication reminds that when the world of plastics was dawning, in the spring of 1952, it asked a dozen leading industrial designers to predict the plastics future.

"THEY CAME up with the Buck Rogers stuff of its day," it continues. "An all-weather stadium completely enclosed in plastic, a super-speed cross-country commuter train relying heavily on plastics, a packaged one-piece bathroom. Yet every prediction has come to pass."

Consider the growth of the industry—between 12 and 14 per cent yearly compared to about 4.5 per cent for all U.S. manufacturing. By mid-1980, world wide production of plastics will be up to 273 million tons, the publica-

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Columnist Gets Clipped For Her Answer To "Clipped Wings"

DEAR HELEN:

How unfair can you get?

Your sin of omission is glaring when you let kids get away with saying "The airline company told us the union won't let us wash their jet for a money-raising project."

The airline owns the plane, not the union. It also hires the ground crew. So it would be paying double if it hired high school students to wash a jet.

The union is made up of fathers who need their jobs washing airplanes so they can put food on the table and a roof over their teen-agers' heads.

A jet plane is worth millions and no airline is going to turn a bunch of kids loose on one. Part of this plane is four stories high.

The insurance premiums would be terrific.

DEAR R:

Ten lashes with my typewriter ribbon duly administered. I'm more uninformed than anti-union — and I still think the idea had class, even though it was unworkable. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

"Clipped Wings" asked for suggestions on money-raising ideas for teen organizations.

Last year one of our high school classes sponsored a stage battle of the bands dance. It was a blast and just about everyone came because they didn't need a date or corsage or special clothes.

The F.T.A. each year gets blank telegrams and the students, for 10 cents each, send lovegrams on Valentines Day.

—FROM SAN MARCOS, TEXAS

DEAR HELEN:

At our school they declared a Class Work Day in the spring. The high school was headquarters and two people were on duty to take phone calls. The kids did everything from baby-sitting to raking leaves. They washed windows, ran errands, even shoppped for elderly people. They took down storm windows and put up screens; girls working right along with the boys, at hourly rates.

The Work Day was well advertised with signs in stores and banks, plus write-ups in newspapers. After the first year people began asking, "When is Work Day? We're waiting for it."

The students worked from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and some of the parents provided food and soft drinks to workers checking in between jobs.

Then we had sales of all kinds. We even had a basket we passed from door to door with baked or canned goods in it. As it reached your house, you took out what you wanted, put in what cash you figured it was worth and added an item of your choosing, if you wished. —ILLINOIS

DEAR HELEN:

How about a paper drive to raise money? There are scrap paper companies in most large towns — look in the phone directory. All you need is a pickup truck, strong backs and ambition. And homeowners love you for it — CALIFORNIA

P.S. Why don't you ask the kids for more ideas and put them in a newsletter?

(Good idea — how about it, gang? — H.)

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

West Coast Brides Tend To Choose More Ornate Patterns For Silver

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI)—Brides are traditionalists when they choose silver flatware, says Frederick J. Coyle, sales manager for one of America's oldest silversmiths.

Coyle adds that modern patterns sell better in stainless steel than in sterling because brides today tend to follow the example set by past generations who also preferred traditional designs.

HE ALSO said that the choice between plain, decorated and ornate designs depends usually on the part of the country the bride is from.

"In New England and Philadelphia, you couldn't give away ornate patterns," he said. "They want only plain.

"Southerners, Southwesterners and West Coast customers go for ornate patterns, completely covered with decoration. Midwesterners buy all three types—lightly decorated, ornate and plain."

Silver style trends do change, but not rapidly, said Coyle.

"We're in a Spanish period now; it began about four years ago when store buyers came back from buying trips in Europe. In the early fifties, it was all hearts and flowers, and the flowers had to be roses. We also went through a Scandinavian period."

NEXT, he predicts a return to plain patterns. Despite such trends, the all-time best-selling sterling flatware pattern in the world is Chantilly, a lightly decorated French scroll design that his firm, The Gorham Co., introduced in 1896. Coyle said an estimated 30 million pieces have been sold since then, about two-thirds of them since 1930 alone.

While a bride generally chooses the pattern, her family or the bridegroom's family may pay for the sterling, said Coyle.

"Silver flatware is so expensive now that most of it is bought by families of the couple instead of wedding guests, who tend to give holloware instead."

Holloware is the term for silver objects such as water pitchers, goblets, serving dishes, coffee sets (consisting usually of coffee server, cream pitcher, sugar bowl and tray) and ornamental objects such as candlesticks and trivets.

IT'S NOT unusual for a single five-piece sterling place setting to retail for $50 and up, but Coyle theorizes that many brides apparently look on sterling as an investment.

Most brides ask if the pattern and pieces they've chosen will still be available years later. Coyle's answer is yes; the company keeps all dies. Once a year, withdrawn patterns are offered at special prices, and they may be ordered at any other time by paying a special die charge.

Train Him

If the bridegroom, after the first few weeks of marriage isn't picking up his clothes, the bride ought to put her foot down. Maybe his mother picked up after him, but if you continue the habit it will be a source of irritation throughout your marriage — not to mention making a slave out of you.

For Safety

University of Nebraska Extension safety specialist Rollin Schnieder says on oven cleaners sprayed on electrical controls or switches can cause fires or electrical arcs brilliant enough to damage eyes. Especially susceptible are knob and push operators of electrical controls or switches.

Ribbon Time

For summer, ribbons gain interest both in jewelry combinations, belt, shoe and handbag designs or worn in the hair, sashed at the waist. Important is the sash in patterned ribbon rather than a plain color.

Strangely, the publication didn't go into the role of plastics in clothing. Maybe it figures that by 1980 we'd all be packaged in space suits anyway.

Scarves In

Scarves still are important ties in the hair, in the neckline of a shirt, or on the shoulder. The oblong scarf gains new importance tied at the throat in a floppy bow or tied to the side of the neck as recently seen in the Paris creations. The patterns are florals, geometrics or landscapes to harmonize with either the brights or pales, or filmy pastel laces, organdies, or dotted Swiss.

CONCERT REVIEW

Principals, Orchestra Share Program Honors

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

SAN FRANCISCO — Honors were divided in last night's San Francisco Symphony Orchestra concert, conducted by Josef Krips, between violin and viola concerti performed by section principals and two brilliantly erformed works for full orchestra.

Marin's Rolf Persinger was the most consistently note-perfect of the two soloists in his playing of the Hindemith Concerto for Viola and orchestra, "Der Schwanendreher."

In this neo-classic work using popular tunes of the Renaissance, Persinger demonstrated with fluent ease both the lyrical and bravura capacities of his instrument, the latter not often heard. His tone was robust as well as rich and warm. He must be one of the top violinists in the country.

The other soloist was cellist Robert Sayre who played the enormously difficult Haydn Concerto in D Major for Violoncello and Orchestra. This is a composition in which the solo part is such a tour de force, especially in the highest range, that one can hardly believe it was written by Haydn. Not until in the 1930s was it proved to be.

Sayre's rather cool style was eminently suited to the classical work, and his technique was formidable with perfect trills and many subtleties. The middle adagio was exquisite, but there were flaws in the allegros, quite a serious one in the last movement when he seemed to be tiring.

The surprise of the evening and a big hit with the audience was the first performance of the revised 1967 version of Roger Nixon's "Mooney's Grove Suite," a programmatic work based on the composer's nostalgic recollections of a recreational park located near his native Tulare. His musical imagery was a highly successful realization of the suite's sections.

Krips and the orchestra performed it with verve and style. The composer, who is professor of music at San Francisco State College, was present to receive the enthusiastic acclaim.

The final full orchestral work, Tschaikovsky's tone poem, "Francesca da Rimini," Opus 32, was electrifying. It was the epitome of a passionately romantic work in its musical picture of the tragic love story of Paola and Francesca. Krips and the orchestra did a superb job of evoking the emotions involved, ranging from the agony of souls in hell to the sublime love song as heard in the violins and cellos.

Bahnar tribesmen of Vietnam believe that good souls go under the earth after death, but bodies remain above ground in their long coffins. Bad souls, taken into the sky, must live with daughters of evil spirits.

Span Painter Fails In Holding A Jumper

Efforts of a California Highway patrolman and a bridge painter yesterday failed to prevent an Oakland real estate salesman from jumping to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Patrol officer Donald G. Freeman reported he was on duty at 3 p.m. when he saw a man stop his station wagon on the bridge and climb over the east railing. Freeman made a U-turn and headed back.

A bridge painter, James Delfino, told patrolmen he also saw the man, identified as Frank Hess, 33, a resident of Piedmont, climb over the rail, north of the south tower. Delfino ran and yelled "Hold it," and grabbed Hess's coat collar but said he was unable to hold on to it as Hess jumped.

The body was recovered at 3:15 p.m. by a U.S. Coast Guard boat and taken to the San Francisco's coroner's office. No note was found in the station wagon, investigators reported.

Ousted Worker In Poverty War Presses Case

The personnel committee of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council met behind closed doors for about two hours last night with dismissed community worker William D. Robinson.

Robinson said he repeated his request for an open hearing on his dismissal before the full council. Attorney Gil Medeiros, chairman of the personnel committee, said he asked Robinson to get in touch with him by June 5 in order to set a hearing.

Robinson indicated he would hire an attorney to plead his case that he was fired by EOC Executive Director Victor H. Cary because he released details of a San Rafael woman's financial troubles to the press. Cary says Robinson was a temporary employee and had to be let go last month because there was no money in the budget to pay him.

Dominican College Gets $745.50 Grant

Dominican College of San Rafael will receive $745.50 as its share of a $7,000 grant given to seven bay area colleges by the United States Steel Foundation.

The unrestricted grant for operating the college was given to the Independent Colleges of Northern California, Inc., of which Dominican College is a member. The allocation of the funds was determined by the size of the member colleges.

Kennedy Firearms Clause On Mail Orders Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today a crime bill amendment that would have banned interstate mail-order sales of shotguns and rifles.

The vote was 53 to 29.

The amendment was offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose brother, President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated with a mail-order rifle. It was a key part of the firearms control legislation urged by President Johnson.

The bill itself would prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and ban over-the-counter handgun sales to nonresidents of a state and to persons under 21.

Kennedy had contended failure to include shotguns and rifles in the mail-order ban would leave "a loophole for death and destruction."

The Massachusetts Democrat referred to the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination and to the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., last month as he told the Senate yesterday:

"It is the rifle that has been the tool of vicious assassins who have brought us national tragedy and international shame."

And discussing slum riots, he added:

"It is the sniper's rifle, with its long-range and deadly accuracy, which throws fear into the policeman and the fireman who must deal with the violent upheavals which have plagued our cities."

Open House

San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School at 24 Myrtle Lane will hold an open house from 10 a.m. to noon Wednesdy.

Address Is Wrong

Nina Louise Bredt of Fairfax, who pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of maintaining a place for the use of marijuana, does not live at 108 Dominga Avenue, according to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Toulon, who report they have lived at that address for over one year. Mrs. Bredt gave the Dominga Avenue address to sheriff's deputies when she was booked at Marin County Jail.

AFL-CIO Suspends Car Workers Union

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The AFL-CIO suspended the 1.3 million member United Auto Workers union from the labor organization today, climaxing a long feud between George Meany and Walter Reuther.

Officially, Reuther's autoworkers union, biggest AFL-CIO affiliate, was suspended for refusal to pay dues. But in fact, the break was seen as complete with the UAW deliberately forcing the showdown.

The action suspending the AFL-CIO's largest single union was officially declared when the morning mail failed to bring a check from the UAW for at least $90,000, representing payment of one month of a three-month dues delinquency.

Meany as head of the AFL and Reuther as head of the CIO joined forces 12 years ago to form the combined labor federation with Meany becoming president and Reuther vice president.

Throughout their organizational marriage of convenience the two have been at personal odds and in basic dispute over the goals that labor should pursue.

Meany contended that the AFL-CIO would not be seriously hurt by the loss of the UAW membership.

The labor organization still has 13 million members with 128 other affiliate unions. Reuther meanwhile was expected to begin recruiting for what was being describe as a new style labor movement.

Family Service Elects Officers

Clinton Jones III of Kentfield, manager of the Greenbrae office of Wells Fargo Bank, is the new president of the board of trustees of the Family Service Agency of Marin County.

Other officers selected at the agency's annual meeting were Mrs. William Gannon of Mill Valley, vice president; John and Ben Solomon of Kentfield, treasurer, and Mrs. Jordan Martinelli Jr. of Ross, secretary. New board members are Louis Harding of Mill Valley and Ben Solomon ofKentfield.

Mrs. Thomas Dahlgren of San Anselmo is board representative from the Family Service League, the agency's auxiliary. The agency, a United Crusade organization, provides counseling for families with marital, juvenile and other problems.

Driver, Son Hurt In Wreck

A Tomales man and his son were hospitalized yesterday after a single-car accident on the Tomales-Petaluma Road.

Thomas P. Redding, 35, and his son, Michael, 5, were both reported in fair condition today with multiple injuries at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma.

Redding apparently dozed at the wheel at 10:10 a.m. and his car ran off the road into a drainage ditch, 12 miles west of Petaluma, according to the California Highway Patrol.

MEADERS may have some of the fanciest equipment made (including an IBM-programmed cleaning machine), but they haven't thrown away the hand irons. In fact, all your cleaning is hand finished at Meaders. Meaders thinks that's the beauty of advanced equipment—it does its job better, and frees people for the careful hand work that no machine can do. Kent To Aid Campaign For Arrigoni

Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. of Fairfax, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Second District, today named Roger Kent of Kentfield and Shirley Coleman of San Anselmo as his campaign co-chairmen.

Also announced today was the formation of a countywide organization supporting Arrigoni's candidacy and calling itself Citizens for Marin Conservation. The group is headed by Mrs. T. C. Wellman of Kentfield and Mrs. T. J. Donnelly of San Anselmo, according to a press release issued by the group.

Expressing "alarm at the way Marin County is being destroyed by rapid and heedless development," the group criticized the incumbent supervisor, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, for " favoring higher density development in West Marin, vocal support for Marincello, and his insistence on freeways as the solution to Marin's transportation problems."

The group includes Bart Benedict, Adele Higgins, Thomas J. Peacock, Raymond Ryason, Palm Stout and Anne West of San Anselmo; E. L. Braun, Robert P. Howell, Renee McIntyre of San Rafael; Anne Coolidge, Dr. L. Martin Griffin, Lawrence Halprin, Alice C. Kent and Robert Praetzel of Kentfield;

J. Peter Erickson, Mel Wax, George Wheelwright of Sausalito; Martin Friedman, Clifford F. Hanssen, Aline McClain, Harlan L. Soeten of Mill Valley; Robert V. Golden of Larkspur; Helen Jean Henry and Mary Henry of Corte Madera; William S. Picher of Belvedere; Helen Newman of Tiburon; Joan Polsdorfer of Ross; A. Schwartz and Ingrid Weiss of Fairfax, and Peter D. Whitney of Inverness.

Peninsula Students See Civic Center

About 100 students from Aragon High School in San Mateo toured the Civic Center building yesterday and heard former supervisor Vera M. Schultz outline the history of the structure.

"When I got the inspiration New Year's day in 1955 to get Frank Lloyd Wright to design the building, I didn't realize it would be my political extinction," said Mrs. Schultz. "But I don't regret it."

The former supervisor said she was defeated in the 1960 election, because she insisted on the Frank Lloyd Wright building.

"It is so much easier to accept the commonplace than to fight for the excellent," she told the students. "Every time I come here I am thrilled at the beauty and functional qualities of the building."

Mrs. Schultz said that the per-square-foot cost of the civic center was less than the hall of justice in San Francisco or the courthouse annex in San Rafael.

Behr On Panel On Economics

Supervisor Peter H. Behr will be a panelist on a conference on "community involvement in economic development" May 24 at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

He also will speak on "Coping With Balance."

The conference, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of California, will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

OLDEST PLANE — This 1918 Hanriot World War I fighter plane will be the oldest plane on display at Hamilton Air Force Base during the Armed Forces Day Sunday. It was restored by owner Marvin Hand of San Francisco.

Thunderbirds' Sky Ballet To Be Highlight Of Armed Forces Day

With daredevil loops, rolls, near misses and a skyburst, the Air Force's crack flying team, the Thunderbirds, will rend the sky over Hamilton Air Force Base as a climax to Armed Forces Day Sunday.

The base will open to the public at noon, featuring varied displays and demonstrations until the Thunderbirds put on their show at 3 p.m.

Planes on display will include a 1918 Hanriot, a World War I fighter plane rebuilt by Marvin Hand of San Francisco and loaned to the Air Force for Armed Forces Day.

It is powered by a 125 horsepower Le Rhone rotary engine and cruises at 105 miles per hour. Hand spent five years in rebuilding his prize.

OTHER AIRCRAFT

Other aircraft on display will include: the C124 Globemaster, the C130 Hercules, the C119 Flying Box Car, the F101 Voodoo, the F102 Delta Dagger, the F104 Starfighter, the F106 Delta Dart, the B57 jet bomber, the T33 jet trainer, the T37 primary jet trainer, the T38 supersonic jet trainer and the CH53 heavy assault helicopter.

The planes will come from five Air Force bases and the helicopter from the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station.

There will also be displays of the Army's Nike missiles.

The Fourth Air Force Band will furnish music.

The Women of the Air Force, who will celebrate their 20th anniversary in June, will present a style show, tracing the history of the WAF.

NAVY DISPLAY

A special Navy SeaBee exhibit will be on display at the base. The display, prepared by the Naval Reserve Training Facility in San Rafael, illustrates the ranks and benefits available to persons with key construction skills if they join the SeaBee program.

Other events in the observance leading up to Armed Forces Day included a visit by base airmen to 60 patients at San Francisco's Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children. Working with Hamilton men and the Lutheran Servicemen's Center of San Francisco, the children have been making stick and paper model planes which were judged in a contest.

PILOTS' DINNER

Col. Robin Olds, commandant of cadets at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. will address the officers of the 78th Fighter Wing at a dining-in at the officer's club at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Activities will include demonstrations of Army procedures, displays of equipment, a parade by Presidio, Army Reserve and Reserve Officer Training Corps units, meals in Army mess halls, movies and tours of the Presidio and historic Fort Point.

Two More Drives Started For Aid Of Kidney Victim

Two more fund drives to help raise $11,000 to save the life of a San Anselmo nurse dying of a kidney disease were started late yesterday, bringing to five the number of funds for her.

Mrs. Joseph G. Alvarez, 48, of 41 Rosemont Avenue, will die if the money cannot be raised by her 62-year-old husband, a jewelry repairman, according to her doctor at the Veterans Administration Hospital in San Francisco.

She was examined yesterday at San Francisco General Hospital to determine her eligibility for treatment and training in the use of a kidney machine. The hospital said it has a waiting list of 10 patients.

One of the two new fund drives for Mrs. Alvarez was started by the Marin General Hospital Foundation, P.O. Box 2199, San Rafael. Mrs. Alvarez joined the hospital's staff as a nurse in February, 1960, and has been on an extended leave since last fall because of her illness.

Checks should be made payable to the foundation, but marked for the Alvarez fund, a spokesman for the foundation said. He stressed that checks should include the word "foundation" after "Marin General Hospital."

The other new fund was opened by an anonymous woman at the United California Bank, 830 Third Street, San Rafael. Checks should be made payable to Joseph G. Alvarez, not to the bank.

The other fund drives are an account at the Ross Valley Savings and Loan Association, P.O. Box 547, San Anselmo, one by the Brookside Parent-Teacher Association, and one by Tamalpais High School's student government.

Checks to the Ross Valley Savingsa nd Loan Association should be made payable to the bank, and a note enclosed or written on the check that it is to go to Joseph G. Alvarez. This fund was started by an anonymous girl student at the College of Marin.

The P-TA fund chairman is Mrs. Frederick Faulkner of 20 Kenrick Drive, San Anselmo. Checks should be made payable to her, with a note that they are for the Alvarez fund. Mrs. Alvarez's 11-year-old daughter, Margarita, goes to Brookside School.

Oakland Man Is Found Dead In Marin City Lot

A 43-year-old Oakland man was found shot to death yesterday in a Marin City parking lot.

Sheriff's deputies found the body of Henry Williams, a warehouseman, behind the wheel of his locked car at 4 p.m. in the parking lot at Hayden's Market, Cole Drive and Drake Avenue.

Williams died of a gunshot wound in the head which assistant coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said was self-inflicted. An automatic pistol was in Williams' right hand, and he left a note on the steering wheel indicating depression over his health.

Williams, of 10060 Bernhardt Drive, Oakland, was a native of Louisiana and had lived in California 17 years. He had been a warehouseman for 19 years and worked for the Navy Supply Center in Alameda.

He is survived by his wife, Blanche, of Oakland. Funeral arrangements are pending at Grant-Miller Mortuary, Oakland.

Novato Sewer Study Presents Two Solutions

The Novato Sanitary District should be merged with either the City of Novato or the North Marin County Water District at some future date.

That was the conclusion of a seven-month study by representatives of the three municipalities, released yesterday.

The study report stated that there was "no particular urgent need" for such a merger, but the possible mergers should be studied further by the three municipalities.

BEGAN IN OCTOBER

The study was authorized last October by the Novato Sanitary District, the North Marin County Water District and the Novato City Council.

It encompassed four possible choices: Merger of the sanitary district with Novato; merger of the sanitary district with the North Marin County Water District; merger of the sanitary district with both the water district and Novato, and no change in the structure of the three bodies.

SINGLE BODY

The study committee, headed by Thomas D. Hardcastle, president of the Novato Sanitary board, recommended a solution providing ultimately for dissolution of the sanitary district.

It reported that the water district, which encompasses all of the sanitary district, could take over all of the functions of the sanitary district.

On the other hand, the City of Novato—because large areas of the sanitary district are outside city boundaries—could not completely take over the sanitary district.

It could take over the portions of it within the city and could operate with the sanitary district under a joint powers agreement until such time boundaries coincided.

An alternative now possible under state law, would be for the city to operate the sanitary district as a subsidiary district if 80 per cent of the sanitary district was within the city limits.

SPLIT FUNCTIONS

Another alternatve would be to split the functions of the sanitary district with the city operating that portion within the city and the water district operating that portion outside of the city, including the treatment plants.

The sanitary district also handles garbage collection for the area under a contract with the Novato Disposal Service, but this could be handled by either agency, according to the report.

If the governing boards of the three bodies agree on a merger plan, it would take a petition signed by 5 per cent of the voters to bring it before the local agency formation commission.

If the commission approved the merger, it would then go before the board of supervisors for a public hearing. After that public hearing, if the supervisors approved the merger, they would set an election date.

VOTING AREA

The election would be held within the entire territory of both districts and be carried by a simple majority vote.

The study predicts a savings of approximately $9,000 per year in event of a merger of the sanitary district with either the city or water district.

This would be basically $4,800 for directors' fees, $1,050 on legal fees, $1,100 for emergency service and the balance in insurance, telephone elections, accounting and auditing.

WHITE ATTITUDE CHALLENGED

Black Power For Identity

By WAT TAKESHITA

Black Power is not violence but an attempt to cast off white domination and build race identity and pride, several black students and an educator declared last night.

Speaking at a panel discussion in the gymnastics building at the College of Marin, the Negroes said token integration and lip service are not enough; the paternalistic and consdescending attitude of the white community must be changed.

One way to change that attitude, suggested moderator John Gardenhire, is to use some of the millions spent by Madison Avenue advertising to hammer away at the idea that black people are as good as any other race.

The panelists were Mrs. Betsy Richardson of Ross, Mrs. Sandra Quigg of Novato, and Mrs. Jean Williams of San Anselmo. The three Caucasian housewives, who are stydying black history, presented what they knew of black power, Negro movements, and Negro history in school text books.

The panel was sponsored by the Committee for Human Understanding at the college. Felicity Nitz, a college student, was in charge of arrangements.

Jon Turner, a Negro student at the college, told the panelists that they had touched only the "inconsequential" issues.

"Dates and facts on Negro history are irrelevant because they do not deal with the black man himself," said Turner.

The black education program at the college is aimed at teaching the entire African culture, from Bantu philosophy and religion to the Negro contributions to contemporary jazz and modern literature, Turner said.

Young blacks formerly with organizations like the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee are divorcing themselves from their white colleagues because the entire white-black relationship has been one of the 'superior" white leading the "inferior" black by the hand, he declared.

A young Negro girl in the audience told the women panelists:

"You truly typify white America in your presentation. Your presentation is so distant."

Mrs. Quigg acknowledged that her presentation was solely from what she had heard and read. "This is the closest I've come to any colored person, right here," she said, turning to Turner who sat next to her.

"When a black talks about violence, he is not threatening at all," declared a Negro girl in the audience. "He's just stating a fact — like if you drink poison, you'll get hurt."

The effervescent Gardenhire, a school teacher in Novato, charged that some of the Independent-Journal editorial comments are "stupid and blind." Several college students in the audience, both black and white, complained that the I-J accounts of race discussions failed to grasp the "real feeling" or "atmosphere" of the meeting.

Gardenhire, a Negro, declared that the issues are clear — equal housing, employment, and opportunities.

"You have to come half way too," suggested Mrs. Richardson.

"We've gone three-fourths of the way. The white community is not caring, not getting involved," replied Gardenhire. "You've got to do something." The well-established, middle class whites do not want any change said Gardenhire. They want to "keep their foot on our neck." It must be the young people who take the initiative, he added.

"I don't want to have to stop and think, now do I dare go into that restaurant, or should I answer the ad, or will they say it was rented an hour ago," said Gardenhire.

A crowd of about 20 met with the panelists to exchange views and ask questions. Though differences were profound at times, the atmosphere was one of calm patience throughout.

Young Collegians Seeking To Become Campus Voice

By MARY LEYDECKER

An ambitious group of students at the College of Marin said yesterday it hopes to become a new force in campus government.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the college students will go to the polls to elect officers for next year. Recent elections on the Kentfield campus have been apathetic affairs with only a few hundred of the nearly 2,600 students voting.

However, this spring a new group, calling itself the students for Academic Freedom (SAF) has been formed and would like to take over the campus. It intends to run not only the student body but also the faculty, administration and apparently the board of trustees.

Leaders of the student party, speaking at a noon rally yesterday, encouraged students to vote for the eight candidates endorsed by the party. The speakers were Jon Turner, leader of the Black Students for Action, and Rick Beban, a white student.

The candidates are Susan Rushton for president; Andy Zimmerman, running for vice president; Ranald Bruce, treasurer; Linda Yoder, head song leader; Philip Byrne, head yell leader; Robert Wright, rallys and assemblys; David Bersin, spirit and athletics, and Peter Doyle, public relations.

Turner said that "although all of the candidates for president and vice president have endorsed the platform of the Students for Academic Freedom," he still urged votes for the original SAF candidates.

What is the platform of the Students for Academic Freedom?

The SAF proposes first of all to throw out the present student body constitution and write a new one "with more emphasis on academic endeavors." SAF proponents decry the amount of money now spent on song girls and cheer leaders and promise funds for such projects as zen, jazz, art and political workshops.

This power would be used to have a student voice in the selection of library books and courses offered at the college.

At the same time, the SAF platform objects to the type of counseling now offered at the college, and as Turner said, "It's very frustrating to find out you haven't taken the right courses for admission to a college or university."

"True academic freedom" is envisioned by the campus leaders of SAF. This freedom will remove "from this institution conditions which perpetuate the horrors of our authoritarianism, ignorance and social games."

While speaking out against "social games" which seemed to include the rah-rah activities long associated with college life, SAF has endorsed students for such offices as head song leader and head yell leader.

"I'm tired of being taught for 20 years the way things should be," Beban concluded. "It's time to make things the way they should be."

"We're not robots or Pavlov's dogs," Turner added, citing a remark to attributed to a college trustee, referred to only as "she," "that" the purpose of a junior college is to train."

Turner did not agree. He said "our ideas are just as good as our elders. It's time to integrate them into the college."

One Candidate Backing Ferry Plan For Bay

A new ferry proposal was aired by Margaret Azevedo, candidate for couty supervisors from the Third District, on today's "Marin Sounding Board" broadcast on radio KTIM.

The six supervisorial candidates from the Third District appeared on the program, which next Thursday at 9 a.m. will present Fourth District candidates.

TRANSIT PROPOSAL

Mrs. Azevedo, saying "a project very dear to my heart is a public transit system," reported a proposal by Rogers S. Cannell of San Mateo County for an integrated bus-ferry system. Minibuses would take commuters from their neighborhoods and would go aboard ferries. The same buses would be used to take the commuters from the ferries to their destinations.

Candidate Donald O'Leary countered with his own plan for a minibus system which would serve other purposes: getting children to school, shoppers to the downtown, young and old to parks, as well as connecting with a rapid transit commute system on the freeway.

TAX PROBLEM

Four candidates — O'Leary, Carl Hepp, Ben Farlatti, and Michael Wornum — agreed that high taxes represent Marin's first-priority problem. Mrs. Azevedo put transit first. The sixth, Rev. Samuel Banks, said: "My concern is the entire climate of Marin County . . . conservation of property, conservation of life, and conservation of our collective ideas."

As to what to do about the tax spiral, the candidates had these suggestions:

Farlatti: "Stop contracting for wasted surveys and studies . . . that are made and never used. . . . Bring in appropriate commercialism and industry."

Hepp: Subject "to intense scrutiny" the increasing costs of county government, particularly those of the planning department and county administrator. Overhaul "the Rube Goldberg contraption the county has for a tax structure."

'BUY IN MARIN'

O'Leary: Push a "Buy in Marin" campaign to increase local sales tax revenues instead of draining off Marin dollars by shopping elsewhere. "Fiscal responsibility" by the board of supervisors will help reduce taxes.

Wornum: "Demand a halt in the obligations which the state continues to heap on the county."

A questioner asked how the candidates felt about salaries and fringe benefits of county employees.

Hepp declared the county "cannot compete with private industry" in salaries and benefits. All the other candidates thought it must do so. Wornum suggested, and Banks agreed, that the county might reduce payroll growth by having fewer employees and paying them better. Farlatti said the county should match private industry pay but its employees should also "produce as in private industry." They don't now, he asserted.

Pair Arraigned On Bogus Money

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A man and woman from Los Angeles were arraigned last night on counterfeiting charges.

Police said Mrs. Stephanie M. Cook, 21, presented a $20 bill to a clerk in an Albany drugstore, but the clerk said it "looked strange." Officers said they found four more $20 bills in Mrs. Cook's purse, and 24 others in possession of her companion, Alexander McKenzie.

CREAMPUFF '63 BUICK 9-PASS WAGON $1195

Here's the last of the "Big Wagons" that Buick produced—the '63 Buick Le Sabre "full sized" wagon. This all light blue wagon with blue vinyl has had excellent care and we just took in trade on another 9-passenger wagon.

We've just installed a brand new transmission. Fully equipped including power steering, power brakes, automatic, radio, heater, w.w tires, etc.

A real vacation wagon for the Marin family.

ANTHONY C. FRANKLIN

SENIOR NOMINEE

Anthony Franklin A Helper

If some elderly person needs transportaion, a Novato man stands ready to take him where he wants to go and back.

If someone is sick and needs company, this same man will be there to visit and comfort him.

If some family has a fire, he finds food, clothing and lodging for them, as district disaster survey officer for the Red Cross.

When the holidays come around, he takes great pleasure in playing Santa Claus to tiny tots, churches and convalescent homes.

Such activities have won for 72-year-old Anthony C. Franklin of 31 Nova Lane, Novato, nomination as the Marin County Senior Citizen of 1968 by the Novato Senior Citizens. He has served as president of that organization for two years.

Tony, as everyone who knows him calls him, moved to Novato nine years ago. He was born in New York City and lived most of his adult life across the Hudson River in Woodridge, N.J., where he was a Boy Scout leader for 22 years.

He worked as a pressman on magazines published by Butterick Publishing Co. in New York until moving to Marin County. Then he was a security guard at the Civic Center until two years ago when he reached the age of 70.

In Novato, he is surrounded by his family. He and his wife, Ellen, live at 31 Nova Lane. One daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foley, and a grandson, Lyn Foley, 19, live in the house on one side of him at 35 Nova Lane. Another daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoff live in the house on the other side at 27 Nova Lane.

The Franklins also have two sons, Joseph Franklin of Chicago, and Edgar Franklin of Woodridge, N.J.

As if all the other activities could not keep him busy, Tony finds time to work for the Novato Chamber of Caommerce. He also is a member of the Barbershop Singers and regularly attends the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Tomales Candidates' Night Set

The first of three candidates' nights for the candidates for the board of trustees of the Tomales Unified School District — if that unification is approved by the voters on the June 4 primary election — will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Bodega Bay School.

The candidates will also appear at meetings at 8 p.m., May 22 at the Tomales High School and at 8 p.m., May 28 at the West Marin School.

There are 13 candidates trying for the seven positions from the seven areas. They will be elected at large, even though they must live in the areas for which chosen.

Those running are:

Area 5 — Harold Meadows Jr. and Joseph Tremari, both of Petaluma.

Area 7 — Mrs. Louise Passalacqua, unopposed.

Mime Troupe Says Egg Hunt A Precedent

Mill Valley's youth center area was used for an Easter egg hunt, so why shouldn't it be used for a mime troupe performance?

This question was posed yesterday by the San Francisco Mime Troupe at a Marin Superior Court hearing on the city's refusal to permit the group to perform either on the center's lawn Saturday and Sunday or at the Old Mill Park on June 8-9.

The hearing, before Judge Joseph G. Wilson, was scheduled for the city to show it had sufficient cause to make the refusals, but the limited time, because of jury selection for a murder trial, caused the magistrate to hear only a brief portion of the arguments.

HEARING CONTINUES

He then continued the hearing until this afternoon

And as the brief flurry of arguments developed, it became apparent that the Easter egg example, made by the troupe's attorney Robert Bennett MCreadie, was not irrelevant. Leland H. Jordan, attorney for Mill Valley, repeatedly said that the center's ground including its lawn is "not compatible with the use they intend," no more so "than if they wanted to perform on the lawn of the city hall."

He declared the center ground has never been used for functions except those contributing to another use of the actual center or the adjoining baseball field. "We're talking about the suitability" of the lawn for mime use," said he.

Leland added that the council is charged with control of its public property and has the basic right and obligation to determine what is its proper or improper use.

CITES EGG HUNT

McCreadie, however, cited an egg hunt on the baseball diamond April 6, and said that at no time has the council set up any standards on what can and can not be considered as compatible use.

"It seems to me that unless the city says no play or plays can be performed, you don't have anything specific enough" to bar one activity and not another, said he.

He said the city acted arbitrarily and unconstitutionally in the denials, and also has no premise on which to declare the group, which maintains it is non-profit, is a fund-raising group and not a worthy cause.

Judge Wilson commented that it seemed a city must have some leeway. "For instance," said he, "if permission were asked to put on a play at a municipal swimming pool."

The city denied the permit on three grounds: a conflict of dates, because the troupe planned to ask donations not to be used for city recreation or "a worthy cause," and because the plays would create congestion and burden the city police.

Proposed performances are the plays "Ruzzante" and "The Farce of Patelin."

Dixie District's Eighth Grade Graduation Slated

Eighth grade graduation ceremonies in the Dixie School District will be held at Vallecito School on Nova Albion Way and at Miller Creek School on Las Gallinas Avenue, on June 13.

The ceremonies will start at 7:30 p.m. at the two schools and will last about an hour.

At Vallecito School, the ceremonies will be held in the new amphitheater, where 270 students will receive diplomas. Principal Earl Thomason will call the students, and trustees of the Dixie district will hand out the diplomas.

The Rev. B. W. Bellinger of Faith Lutheran Church will give the invocation, and Dr. Clayton K. Harrop of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary will give the benediction.

At Miller Creek School, a platform will be set up in the basketball court area, where 195 students will receieve diplomas from the trustees. Principal Raymond A. Riley will address the students, and two student representaaives will respond.

"I never stole a horse or called a man a liar to his face," he replied.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Don't Be Unprepared When You Find Yourself In Retirement

VAN DELLEN

Retirement often begins like a much needed vacation. The pensioner hasn't a care in the world, no deadlines to meet, and no crowded buses or subways to tackle. But sooner or later, life becomes more prosaic and the days drag.

The workshop seems dull, stamp collecting no longer is a fascinating hobby and fishing is monotonous.

KNOWING WHAT to expect makes every difference.

Some companies provide lectures along this line years in advance of the retirement date. The speakers tell the prospective retirees about the temporary letdown during the first few weeks and how to avoid the tragedy of leading a barren, vegetative existence.

It is necessary to remain busy and active even though what is done is neither important nor productive. A sense of humor is invaluable.

THE RETIRED oldster may decide to visit the state parks or historic spots in his area. Others become authorities on Civil war history, tour the battlefields, and reconstruct the skirmishes of the 1860s. A few collect old epitaphs or acquire a working knowledge of atomic energy.

Hobbies begun during retirement often become profitable. A man who has collected antique lamps or bric-a-brac might start a small business.

AT LEAST, he knows something about the field before he begins. Avocations such as these can be combined with the historical, cultural, and geographic factors associated with a collection. iWth such a background, a retiree need not feel he is on the shelf.

The practical aspects must be considered, as a pensioner cannot carry on a champagne hobby with a beer income. On the other hand, money is of secondary importance.

As Thoreau said, "A man is rich in proportion to what he is able to do without."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics, if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

IN CROWDED ROOM

J. H. J. writes: Is it considered serious to faint twice in a year? This occurred at a gathering held in a warm and crowded room.

REPLY

No, but why not investigate this before it becomes a habit? Various nervous and psychological factors are involved in fainting. It helps to strengthen your body and raise resistance through exercise. Meanwhile, avoid overcrowded quarters and hot, poorly ventilated rooms.

RAW POTATOES

R. P. writes: I used to eat one raw potato a day but my craving has increased, and I now eat two. Will this peculiar habit harm me in any way?

REPLY

No, raw potato is no more harmful than other uncooked vegetables such as carrots or radishes.

STIFF FINGER JOINTS

R. R. writes: Will calcium and vitamin D keep arthritic finger joints from getting larger?

REPLY

SICK TO STOMACH

W. W. writes: Whenever I am working under stress or when I become angry, I get sick to my stomach. Can you tell me why? P.S. My glasses do not need changing.

REPLY

The stomach, with its complex nerve supply, is extremely sensitive to emotions. Reactions vary from the sick feeling that follows fright (butterflies) to the development of ulcer as a result of persistent nervous strain.

Apartment Plans Before Novato Review Board

Plans for three apartment buildings will come before the Novato Plan Review Committee when it meets at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the Community House.

Walter Kieckhefer has submitted plans for a 117-unit apartment house on approximately nine acres on the south side of Ignacio Boulevard across from the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center.

Loyal Davis has submitted plans for a 52-unit apartment on approximately two and a half acres on the east side of Railroad Avenue south of Orange Avenue.

Is Toolmaker 12 Million Years Old?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Geographic Society scientist has unearthed evidence an ancestor of man was using a crude stone hammer 10 million years earlier than man himself had been thought to be using any tools.

The society said yesterday Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, famed British anthropologist found evidence at Fort Ternan, Kenya, that the man-like creature "Kenyapithecus wickeri" apparently hammered open animal skulls and bones with the stone hammer 12 million years ago.

Leakey had discovered some years ago at Olduvai Gorge in Tanzania remains of the two-million-year-old "Homo Habilis," a direct ancestor of man which long was believed to be the earth's first toolmaker.

But the society quoted Leakey as saying the new discovery indicates the prehuman creature was using tools in the Pliocene period, 12 million years ago.

McCarthy Night

The Marin McCarthy for President Committee will hold a fund-raising "Marin Night" from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. Tuesday at Eugene, a "politico nightclub" in San Francisco's Committee Theater, 836 Montgomery Street. Tickets will be available at the door, and reservations are not necessary, the Marin committee said.

Cream Of Crop In Divisional Track Meet

The Marin County Athletic League's cream of the crop squares off against the best of three leagues in what is for all purposes the Redwood Empre prep track and field championship in the North Coast Division III meet at Tamalpais High School tomorrow.

The trials and field championships kick off at 2 p.m. with finals in the running events set to start at 4:30 p.m.

Marin aces will go against the best of the North Bay League, the Humboldt-Del Norte league and the North Central League in a bid for sports in the prestigious North Coast Section Meet at Santa Rosa Junior College the following weekend.

Some MCAL standouts will get their strongest tests to date in in meet, in which team points will be kept.

Here's a rundown of some key events:

Lowell Harris, Terra Linda hurdles ace and MCAL record holder in both the highs and the lows, will come up against stiff competition.

He'll go against a field that includes Webster Johnson of Vallejo, (14.5), Craig Fisher of El Molino (14.4) and John Reeedy of Ukiah (14.5). All of those times were on Santa Rosa's foam rubber asphalt track with the help of sime wind and were not counted as North Bay records. Harris set an MCAL mark of 14.5 in the loop trials. Webster Johnson has a 19.9 in the lows where Harris has a loop mark of 19.5.

Tam sprint star Allan Lee should be the pick of the dash crop with his 9.9 clocking. Four other runners from the enemy leagues have 10.0 clockings.

Larry Highee of McKinleyville has a 1:56.2 in the 880 but Tod Norris of Redwood could be a threat with his time of 1.59.0.

The MCAL's star-depleted mile entrants will probably offer little threat to John Stevens of Vallejo who has a 4:28.7.

The two-mile is a tossup with Bob Schierbeck of Petaluma the man to beat at 9:57.0. Darren Walton of Novato won the MCAL meet with a 9:58.0.

Dave Bariski of San Rafael will square off against Charley Keturakat of Vallejo in the 440, pitting his best of 51.4 against Keturakat's 50.4.

Tamalpais Coach Bruce Grant faces a problem in the relays where he can use Lee only once. In the 440, Petaluma has a 43.4, faster than Tam's loop-winning 43.9.

Herb Rowland of San Rafael has the best leap in the long jump at 22.0. The high jump may turn out to be a disaster area unless Floyd Jackson of Tam and Bob Ballou of Redwood turn back to form. Fisher has jumped 6-3 and Montgomery cage ace Dwight Holladay has done 6-2.

The pole vault could belong to John Robinson of St. Helena who has turned in a 13-6 but MCAL entrants, including unbeaten Terra Linda sophomore Mark Jones could surprise.

The MCAL bees will be well represented by such stars as Redwood shot putter Bob Bartel, Redwood miler Wayne Horiuchui, Tam discus record holder Gary Suderstrom, Redwood 880 man Kevin Pusser and Drake High jumper Richard Smartt.

Some Deflationary Thoughts On Cutting Athletic Costs

I see where Sports Illustrated points out that college athletics is in serious financial straits due to the inflation of costs, much of which relates to football.

The budget for recruiting in itself must be staggering. Don Alvarado of San Anselmo, Drake High's many-splendored athlete, was wooed by no less than 28 colleges.

After narrowing the field down to five, young Alvarado visited those campuses on all-expenses paid weekends. On one visit he was just one of 16 high school seniors who were entertained on that weekend. He finally selected Stanford, which, along with Cal, spent the least on him.

When you think of coaches' salaries, recruiting trips by coaches around the country, air transportation for athletes to visit the campuses, scholarships, etc., you begin to get the idea of just how big college athletics has become.

Back To One-Platoon System

One of the most painful solutions to the inflation of football is to return to one-platoon system, cut the size of coaching staffs and decrease the number of scholarships, take the plush out of the athletic dorms and the steaks off the training tables.

It is a solution everyone is trying to avoid, but it seems inevitable. And, boy, would that be rough on our poor football heroes.

Last Saturday the sporty scavengers treated 85 Little Leaguers from Belvedere-Tiburon, Strawberry, Corte Madera, Larkspur and Mill Valley to a day at Oakland Coliseum to watch the Athletics play the Chicago White Sox. And, not only that, the chartered buses stopped off at Sabella's for brunch on the way.

Leach Eyes Open Again

SEARCH FOR GLORY — Amateurs Ray Leach and George Greenwood, both of Novato, will begin the long road toward the 1968 National Open Golf Tournament next Monday in local qualifying at the Silverado Country Club's North Course in Napa.

Of the 123 entrants at Silverado, only 22 will advance to the Sectional Qualifying at San Francisco June 3-4.

Last year Leach, now a high school senior, came within one stroke of qualifying for the National Open when he was penalized a stroke for cleaning his ball twice on one green. One pro called the young man on that silly rule and I still get apoplectic just thinking about it.

GONE FISHIN' — You trout fans will be happy to know the California Department of Fish and Game this week will stock local Bon Tempe and Lagunitas reservoirs and Rodeo Lagoon with catchable-size trout. So, go get 'em, gang!

FOR INDY POLE SPOT

Drivers Predict 170 MPH

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — It's the concensus of 15 top drivers at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway that it will take a speed of more than 170 miles an hour to win the pole position in this year's Memorial Day 500-mile race.

That's faster than any lap has ever been run around the 2½-mile paved oval. The current qualifying record is 168.982 for the 10 miles and a best lap of 169.779 by Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., last year.

Andretti, who has broken the qualifying record three straight years, is confident the 170 m.p.h. barrier will be shattered in Saturday's qualifications for the 52nd annual classic.

He predicted in a poll yesterday a top average of 170.6 m.p.h. with a best lap of 172.3 in Saturday's 10-mile runs.

The poll of Andretti and 14 other drivers brought predictions of an 170.406 average for the pole car Saturday. The concensus was for a best lap of 171.307 and a minimum of 163.62 to get into the 33-car starting field.

The third driver on the 1967 front row, Gordon Johncock of Hastings, Mich., predicted 171.4, and winner A. J. Foyt Jr. of Houston figured it would take 171.1 to win the pole this time.

The fastest one-lap speed this year has been the 169.555 That Britisher Mike Spence hit May 7 in a new Lotus turbine car. The same day Spence was injured fatally when a sister car he was driving rammed a wall.

Only yesterday did a third driver, Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., reach a 169-plus speed. He piloted his turbocharged Eagle Offenhauser to a 169.3 lap.

No Place Like Home, Say Winning Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There's no place like home for the San Francisco Giants — at least when the Houston Astros are the visiting team.

The Giants steam-rolled the Astros 7-3 yesterday and boosted their record to 31-3 against Houston in the last 34 games between the clubs at Candlestick Park.

The Houston hex jinxed left-hander Denny LeMaster, who defeated Gaylord Perry, 10-2, in the Astrodome as the Astros won 3 of 4 games with the Giants last week. This time, Perry was the winner, raising his record to 4-2.

Mays' 350-foot blast was his seventh of the season and the 571st of his career. It also gave the 37-year-old slugger 5,097 total bases—only four shy of Tris Speaker for the No. 4 spot on the all-time list.

Ollie Brown's two-run single chased LeMaster and highlighted a four-run sixth-inning rally that gave the Giants a 7-0 lead.

Hunt's error on Rusty Staub's grounder to second base was followed by Doug Rader's three-run homer off the top of the fence at the 410-foot sign in dead center to cap the scoring.

"I was a little careless with the big lead," admitted Perry. "But it was good to be able to beat these guys after being humiliated last week in the Astrodome.

"I just don't have much luck down there," the pitcher concluded.

Slumping Pirates Burn Their Bats

PITTSBURGH (AP) — After last night's 1-0 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals Pittsburgh Pirate players hauled more than 50 bats to the right field bullpen area where they poured gasoline on them and watched them go up in smoke.

The bat bonfire was the players' idea. They apparently hoped the smoke would drift far away, carrying with it the memory of runless and hitless games.

Trainer Suspended, But 'Image' To Run

PLEASED

"I woke him (Cavalaris, who was at a nearby hotel) up," Fuller said. "He was very pleased I was going to run the horse."

Also entered were Forward Pass, Charles Engelhard's Jig Time, Mrs. Mildred Beall's Martins Jig, Gene Goff's Nodouble, Robert . Kleberg's Out of the Way, Hubert Phipps' Ringmaster, Richard DuFour's and Joseph Richards' Sir Beau, John Nero's Wood-Pro and James L. Skinner's Yankee Lad.

Post time for the 1 3-16-mile classic is 5:30 p.m., EDT. If all 10 start, the gross purse will be $195,200, making it the richest triple crown race ever.

FOURTH SECTION 37
Thursday, May 16, 1968

Cavalaris and his assistant, Robert Barnard, were suspended by Churchill Downs stewards late last night as a result of an illegal medication that led to disqualification of Dancer's Image in the May 4 Derby.

Before the hearing began earlier this week, Fuller had said Dancer's Image would not run in the second jewel of the Triple Crown at Pimlico if Cavalaris was suspended. But Cavalaris has urged all the while that the colt run, no matter what his status as a trainer.

The three stewards indicated further investigation was merited and referred the matter to the Kentucky Racing Commission.

Fuller said he would appeal the decision to the commission in hope that Cavalaris would be able to train Dancer's Image during the course of his suspension.

CLOSED DOORS

After meeting nearly 48 hours behind locked doors, the stewards announced that Cavalaris and Barnard were forbidden to enter any race track through June 13.

They also officially announced that Dancer's Image, who finished first in the Derby by 1½ lengths over Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, was disqualified and placed last.

This made Forward Pass the Derby winner, gave the first money of $122,600 to Calumet Farm, and gave the colt a shot at becoming the first Triple Crown winner since Citation added a Belmont Stakes triumph to Derby and Preakness victories.

New Demands By Negroes Turned Down By Willsey

BERKELEY (AP) — Negro football candidates at the University of California are boycotting spring practice, demanding the right to say who should play which position, and when.

"I do not believe these prerogatives of a coach are negotiable," he said. "I cannot ignore my responsibilities."

He also refused to name any of the athletes.

"I will not initiate any name calling," he said today. "I don't want to appear to the public to be exposing them to criticism."

He said in a statement: "It will be a tragedy that competition will be denied to some outstanding young men because of their actions.

Willsey said he has no idea when or if the Negroes will return. Football practice ends Saturday.

14 OUT

Pressed for a count, Willsey said 14 were out for spring drills and every one played in last Saurday's alumni game.

He said five or six were lettermen.

Four lettermen who had been out were Irby Augustine, fullback; Jerome Chapman, offensive guard; John McGaffie, fullback, and Paul Williams, halfback.

Willsey, who is concluding his fourth year as head coach, said the Negroes did not demand the ouster of any coach, as had Negroes of all sports at California last winter.

RESIGNED

"There are certain prerogatives that belong solely to the head coach," Willsey said in a statement. "These include the determining of the relative abilities of the various members of the team, and the placement of athletes in various positions; simply, the determination of who will play, where and when.

"I can make no prediction as to what will happen in the future, only that I will maintain the sole right of evaluating the California football team as to its playing personnel."

A's Game Rained Out In Minnesota

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Manager Bob Kennedy is probably hoping the rain which washed out yesterday's game with the Minnesota Twins won't wash out the result of an Oakland team meeting in Chicago Sunday morning.

The Athletics, who had collected only three runs and 13 hits in losing their first three games to Chicago, went out after that meeting and beat the White Sox 6-2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Milwaukee Fans Watch Angels Top White Sox

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox brought major league baseball back to Milwaukee and got a wet reception from the weatherman, an impartial one from the fans and a beating from the California Angels. Only the size of the crowd—23,510—made the trip worthwhile.

After all, it was the size of the crowds in Chicago—the largest has been 11,546 this season—that prompted the Sox to schedule nine regular season games in Milwaukee, the first there since the Braves moved in 1965.

The White Sox themselves, however, failed to impress. Most of the fans sat through the rain that began in the early innings and the 29-minute delay in the eighth to see Paul Schaal single home two runs in that inning and give the Angels a 4-2 victory over Chicago.

The weather played a part in reducing the rest of the American League schedule as only two other games were completed—Baltimore outslugged Detroit 10-8 and Boston held off Washington 6-4.

The Oakland game at Minnesota was rained out as was the New York game at Cleveland where the Yankees and Indians were tied 2-2 after 7½ innings.

The crowd at Milwaukee, quiet compared to the howling followers of the Braves, watched curiously as the Sox and Angels battled through seven innings tied 1-1.

"It was a good crowd, a baseball crowd," said Angels' manager Bill Rigney. "They just weren't sure who they were for. They were just out to see a baseball game."

The players couldn't tell either from the crowd reaction who was the home team, and the Angels aroused some enthusiasm when they loaded the bases with none out against Bob Locker on Bob Rodgers' single, a double by Bobby Knoop and an intentional walk. Then came the delay, then came reliever Wilbur Wood, then came Schaal and there went Chicago's hopes for a victory.

The backers of the game were delighted at the turnout, considering the tornado warnings in the area until 6 p.m., the rain and local television of the game.

Boston Gets Pro Grid Ultimatum

ATLANTA (UPI)—The NFL-AFL has issued an ultimatum to the city fathers of Boston: build a bigger stadium or kiss pro football goodbye!

At yesterday's session of the leagues' joint spring meeting, which will be completed today, the owners unanimously agreed to require by 1970, when the two leagues merge, that all teams must play in stadiums that seat "in the vicinity of 50,000"

That put the finger squarely on the Boston Patriots who now play in Fenway Park, home of the Red Sox. Fenway Park seats 37,216 for football—7,000 less than any other stadium in the NFL-AFL.

The NFL-AFL owners had a busy day yesterday. They also outlawed the "automatic" extra-point kick "on a trial basis" in 23 interleague exhibition games this summer and began working out counter-proposals to NFL player demands for more money.

In pre-season games between NFL and AFL teams, the extra point after touchdown will have to be scored by either passing or running. In games between two NFL teams, the kick-run-pass option may be used for the extra point and in those between AFL teams, it's still kick for one point or run-or-pass for two.

Javier Borrows From A Legend

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Julian Javier will never be mistaken for Babe Ruth . . . but the slender St. Louis Cardinal is the Sultan of Swat today in the starry eyes of a McKeesport, Pa., youngster.

Javier borrowed a page from the Ruth legend last night after a hospital visit to 6-year-old Mark Sandusky, whose legs were crushed in a recent automobile accident.

The boy, who might never walk normally again according to his doctors, asked Javier to hit a home run for him in the Cards' game at Pittsburgh.

Javier obliged in the fourth inning, slamming his first homer of the season to back Steve Carlton's four-hit pitching and give the Cardinals their second successive 1-0 victory over the Pirates.

"I wasn't thinking about it," Javier said afterward. "But when I was running around the bases, I thought, 'Look what I did!'"

The Chicago Cubs caught Los Angeles from behind 5-3, Cincinnati trimmed the New York Mets 3-0 and San Francisco topped Houston 7-3 in other National League action. The Atlanta-Philadelphia game was rained out.

Carlton held Pittsburgh hitless until the fifth and nursed the one-run edge all the way for his fourth victory against one loss.

STEVENS

As has happened each year at this time, the Department of Fish and Game sounds a warning to tenderhearted, but uninformed citizens to NOT pick up and take with them a fawn.

No question but what a baby deer is pretty and comparatively tame. It may seem that the little fellow has been deserted by its mother, but chances are 100 to 1 the doe is close by but concealed by vegetation. It will come back to the fawn. If, though, you pick it up it may be confused and, if freed in another area, could be that the mother will not be close and able to rejoin her offspring.

Wildlife managers note that all young wild animals are difficult to care for and seldom make good pets if they survive. Each year the DFG receives reports of people — often children — being seriously injured by supposedly "tame" deer. In some cases, deer have killed people.

IF YOU haven't gone in for a coot shoot during the special season as yet, you'd better get organized. The federal depredation order calls it quits this Sunday.

IT IS hard to believe but in spite of many warnings, 131 citations were issued by fish and game wardens for not having a license, and of that number, 62 were caught fishing with two rods.

A SERIES of minus tides brought out a large number of citizens, for abalones, clams and shellfish. Wardens cited 70 for over-limits or undersize clams and shellfish.

A RELEASE from the office of Frank Hubbard, information officer DFG, states that the following waters were scheduled to be restocked with catchable size trout this week: By counties — San Luis Obispo: Atascadero Lake, Chorro Reservoir and Lopez Creek. Monterey: Lower Arroyo Seco Creek, Upper Arroyo Seco Creek and the lower Nacimiento River. Santa Cruz: Loch Lomond Reservoir, Fall Creek and Corralitos Creek. Santa Clara: Stevens Creek Reservoir and the Campbell Percolation Pond. San Mateo: Pescadero Creek and Gazos Creek. Alameda: Alameda Creek. San Francisco: Lake Merced. Marin: Rodeo Lagoon, Bon Tempe Reservoir and Lagunitas Reservoir. Sonoma: Lade Ralphine. Napa: Hennessey Lake impoundment, Upper Blue Lake, Anderson Creek and Kelsey Creek. Mendocino: East Branch of the Russian River.

STILL SLOW fishing for ocean salmon and stripers inside. Better news is due. Let's hope so, huh?

THE TRUE OLD-STYLE KENTUCKY BOURBON

HERB MICHELSON

Wanted: Right Handed Veteran Outfielder

OAKLAND — If you are concealing somewhere in your neighborhood a right-handed baseball hitter, preferably an outfielder and hopefully a seasoned veteran, dispatch him with utmost haste to the Oakland Coliseum.

For such a service, Charlie Finley might bestow upon you a free insurance policy, or his mule, or fireworks that will be left over from lack of home run hitting at season's end.

Charlie's Athletics desperately, fervently, passionately need a right-hand hitting veteran outfielder. They are not the only ones. The demand is such that whatever supply existed has dried up; the thought being: If my right-handed hitting veteran outfielder is so valuable to everybody else, I'll keep him myself."

Southpaw pitching is the best way to burn the A's. Only last week, Chicago lefties Gary Peters and Tommy John stopped the Oaklands on consecutive evenings in the Coliseum. The A's record vs. left-handed hurlers even this early in the season is pitiful.

THE REASONING is simple: Oakland's big swingers are, or at least are considered to be, Rick Monday, Reggie Jackson and Ramon Webster. All hit left. As does starting second sacker John Donaldson. Of the right handers in the starting lineup, only Sal Bando has any potential consistent punch.

Opposing managers, depending on their pitching staffs, are thus willing to risk facing Bando and the occasionally muscular Jim Pagliaroni with a southpaw if it means cooling the sticks of Monday, Jackson and Webster.

ONE OF THE long-range tragedies of this southpaw glut could be the demise, and eventual farming, of young Reggie Jackson. He has more difficulty with left-handed pitchers than Monday and Webster. Jackson's departure would be sad, indeed, for the young man has in a short time become a fan favorite.

The Oakland fan might contend that the A's already have veteran right-hand-hitting outfielders in Danny Cater and Mike Hershberger. Yes, and no. Manager Bob Kennedy seems unwilling to play either with any regularity, particularly the amiable Hershberger. Bob chose to gamble for a while with right-handed rookie Joe Rudi in left. And speaking of that position, what about Floyd Robinson?

HE'S A VET — and a proven .300 hitter in the majors. But, alas, Floyd hits left-handed. Starting him would give Oakland an all-lefty outfield in company with Jackson and Monday. So Floyd has been relegated to No. 1 left-handed pinch hitter.

Who fits the need then? And who could Oakland trade for this seemingly unfindable human?

Minnesota, which needs bullpen help, might part with Bob Allison, a streaky yet strong hitter, or aging rookie (30) Frank Kostro, who hit .323 in a short stint with the Twins and .369 at Denver last year.

THE ANGELS might be talked out of venerable (36) Woodie Held, whose bat is slipping (.220 in '67) but who can still provide inspiration and savvy to a young club such as the A's. Chuck Hinton is another Angel with right-handed distinction.

The White Sox recently farmed former S.F. prep and junior college star Walt (No Neck) Williams to Hawaii. The 5-6, 185-pound fireplug abounds with admirable hustle.

DETROIT WOULDN'T think of surrendering Willie Horton, although they might be talked out of Mickey Stanley and his .210 bat of 1967. Swell. Washington has Cappy Peterson, the ex-Giant, and Fred Valentine in the right-handed pasture patrolling department. But neither is adequate. Tere's always the Nats' Frank Howard, and Washington's quite happy with him, thank you.

The A's must spring loose one of the availables in their "most wanted" category — if any are to be sprung — before the June 15 trade deadline. Waiver pickings will be slim indeed after that.

ALSO TO BE considered is a club's reluctance to part with any quasi-hitter, be he right or left, this year. The expansion draft for Seattle and K. C. looms, and even the slightest potential batsman must be protected on the chance a current "star" could be lost.

MASTER MARINERS' ENTRY

The Alameda-built boat "Billiken" is the first entry in the tradition-drenched National Maritime Day Master Mariners chooner race on San Francisco Bay Sunday. The historic race was first run in 1867, then discontinued only to be rejuvenated in 1965. Forty boats are entered in the race, all of them sailing under the house flag of a marine industry sponsor.

George Taniguchi Hopes To Become Racing Official

ALBANY (AP) — George Taniguchi, 38, the first American of Japanese Ancestry to become a jockey in this country, retired yesterday, beaten by a nose in his final race.

Too young to fight in World War II, Taniguchi had a speaking role in the movie, "Go For Broke," inspired by the legendary heroism of Hawaii's famed 422nd Infantry regiment of Japanese Americans.

100 Amateurs To Begin Olympic Boxing Tryouts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — About 100 amateur fighters start battling today for 11 berths to the Olympic tryouts next September in Toledo, Ohio.

Twenty-four matches had been scheduled at the Winterland Arena for tonight and tomorrow night, with the 11 championship bouts scheduled Saturday night.

But tournament director Al Sandell, who had expected 80 entries, made plans for a Matinee this afternoon.

The entry list represents all those west of the Mississippi River who did not enter or failed to qualify in the Golden Gloves. A similar tryout tournament is being held east of the Mississippi.

The bouts begin at 7:30 p.m. today and tomorrow and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Netters Begin Working Out

BERKELEY (AP) — Three members of the U.S. Davis Cup team which will meet Mexico here next week in the North American zone tennis finals arrived yesterday and began working out.

They are Clark Graebner, Arthur Ashe and Charles Pasarell.

Southern California's Bob Lutz and Stan Smith, expected to form the doubles team, are competing in the Pacific-8 Conference championships at Pullman, Wash. They are expected Saturday night.

Nimitz Regatta

The Nimitz Regatta Saturday at Berkeley Yacht Club will be the next event for the Predicted Log Racing Association of Northern California, it was announced yesterday by Richard G. McDonald, public information officer of the association.

PREP NOTES

Bits And Pieces From Track Meet

By GARY TISCHLER

That tie in the varsity pole vault between Mark Jones of Terra Linda High and Mark Molica of Drake wasn't a tie.

It was won by Jones after a jumpoff when Jones cleared 12-6 on his first try. He later cleared 12-11 in a no-count bid for 13 feet.

Jones, incidentally, went undefeated in head-on dual meet clutches in league action. Something nice for Terra Linda coach Barry Amsden to think about is that the boy's only a sophomore. He's the only soph to win a first in the league meet in varsity action.

RANDY HARNESS of Tamalpais captured the fifth spot in this week's district meet in the mile when he topped Alan Brose of Terra Linda in a runoff Tuesday. Harness qualified for a runoff under the MCAL's "hardship" ruling. He had to sit out the MCAL meet because of injuries suffered when he was assaulted by a band of youths while running in the hills of Northern San Jose on a weekend.

Terra Lindan Bruce Little, who set a frosh MCAL record of 44-5¼ in the shot, completed an undefeated season.

The winning Terra Linda "B" 440 relay team consisted of Ron Engle, Art McIrvin, Doug Kronemeyer and triple winner Tim Trimble.

Schneider had something of a schmoe season full of bad luck. He went out for track after a Little League elbow cut him out of baseball and immediately popped his ankle, keeping him out for most of the season. A long-jumper, he finally tried out for the 440, getting in on a 55.0 time in the trials. Grant put him in as the lead runner of the mile relay and Schneider responded with a 53.0 to get the Indians off to a lead they never relinquished. Only a week earlier, the same Indians had lost comfortably to San Rafael.

DON ALVARADO, of Drake High School, one of the most honored athletes in the history of the Marin County Athletic League, has signed a letter of intent to Stanford.

Alvarado will receive an academic and football scholarship. He was named the league's outstanding football player by its coaches, was the MCAL's scholar-athlete, and all-leaguer on offense and defense and a Northern California selection. He is currently a hot hitter in the loop's baseball race and was a second-team basketball choice.

Alvarado picked Stanford over 27 other queries and offers from other schools. He had also leaned toward Oregon, where Drake star swimmer Bob Girvin is headed.

INCIDENTALLY, that wasn's Ken DeMont who qualified in the 100-yard breaststroke for Redwood in the North Coast divisional swimming meet last week. It was cousin Norm DeMont. Sorry about that, Norm.

Sacramento State Gets New Coach

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Fred Lewis has resigned as head basketball coach of Syracuse University. The school said yesterday that Lewis, 47, would become athletic director at California's Sacramento State College.

Lewis took over at Syracuse during the 1962-63 season. Since then, he had compiled a 91-57 record.

BOWLING TIPS

A hop at the finish of your delivery is a sure indication that your timing is poor. There are many possible causes, but one of the first solutions you should try would be to slow down your approach. Take smaller, more deliberate steps, not just at the start of your approach, but all the way.

Weekend Races On Vallejo Oval

It will be a busy weekend of racing at Vallejo Speedway.

Today is Thursday, May 16, the 137th day of 1968 with 229 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1866 the Treasury Department was authorized to manufacture and place in circulation the first 5-cent piece.

In 1933 President Franklin D. Roosevelt called on all governments to adopt a series of nonaggression pacts.

A thought for the day — Virgil said, "Yield not to misfortune but press forward the more boldly in their face."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. DEUCE OPENING

West opened the deuce of hearts, making a gift of the contract to South, but South didn't bother to look the gift over. He played the low heart from dummy and captured the queen with the ace of hearts. Declarer then led the king of diamonds.

West thoughtfully refused the trick but stepped up with the ace when South continued with the jack of diamonds. West then shifted to the five of clubs.

Now South had to lose a club trick because he couldn't get to his hand to discard a club from dummy on the queen of diamonds. The defenders got a club, a diamond and two trumps, defeating the contract.

JUST DESERTS

"I didn't deserve to make it," South commented. "If they opened clubs I wouldn't have a prayer for the contract."

"You didn't deserve it, all right," North agreed. "They gave it to you, but you gave it right back. Very unselfish of you. I wouldn't have been so generous."

How could South make sure of his contract after the heart opening lead? Decide for yourself before you read on. It isn't hard if you take a second look.

HEART PLAY

South should play the jack of hearts from dummy at the first trick. After winning the first trick declarer can knock out the ace of diamonds and can get back to his hand with a heart (either the ace of the ten, depending on East's play at the first trick), to discard dummy's losing club on the queen of diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ A Q
♦ A 10 5 2
♣ J 9 5

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. With 11 points in high cards you are too strong for a response of one no trump, but you cannot raise spades with only two cards in the suit. Bid your own suit, such as it is, and await developments.

New Rental Center Will Serve Both Homeowner And Hobbyist

A new business serving householders and do-it-yourself craftsmen, A to Z Rental Center, is scheduled to open May 24 at 116 Jacoby Street, San Rafael.

Franchise owner Forrest Goff of Tiburon has leased about 3,500 square feet to offer the rental of tools, power tools, painting equipment, scaffolding, furniture dollies, plumbers' and mechanics' equipment, floor care equipment, cement mixers, yard and garden equipment, home appliances, furniture, banquet and party needs, invalid and sickroom equipment and numerous other articles.

Let Profits Run While Prospects Are Favorable

By ROGER SPEAR

Q. You sometimes say "let profits run." What I would like to know is how long? Whittaker Corp., bought in 1954, is now worth six times what I paid. What was behind the sudden price rise? —P.A.

A. The 60-point rise in your shares last year was mainly the result of a turn-around in earnings and a fast-paced acquisition program, in the first four months of this year 11 acquisitions were either completed or pending.

Withdrawal of its recent offer to Crucible Steel does not preclude a similar move toward another specialty steelmaker. Whittaker is an aggressively managed company with above average long-term potential. Let profits run as long as prospects remain favorable.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

42 EDITORIAL PAGE San Rafael, Calif. Thursday, May 16, 1968

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Town Meetings Should Spread To More Cities

A civic improvement idea that had its first Marin County reception in San Anselmo is about to spread to a second city. We would like to see it spread farther.

Fairfax will hold its first Congress for Community Progress on June 17, modeled on the San Anselmo Town Meeting which had its third renewal last Saturday.

THESE MEETINGS result from an effort by Pacific Gas & Electric Co. to promote "do it yourself" solutions to community problems. PG&E's community development department got the ball rolling for the first such meeting in San Anselmo, as it has done in other Northern California communities.

Improvements in firefighting equipment and city decision to go ahead with plans for developing Sorich Park may be traced to the first Hub City Town Meeting in March, 1966.

Last year's meeting called for a vote on city councilmen's pay, which resulted in its being cut by action of the electorate last month. It spurred city action for a street improvement plan to replace "patch and make do" maintenance, and city hiring of a traffic consultant to try to unsnarl congestion that has sometimes been aggravated rather than eased by street changes.

Also, the town meetings have served to keep attention focused on problems crying for solution: the Hub intersection, better school-community relations, more youth facilities, to name three.

TWO OF THE LEADERS at last year's town meeting — Kenneth L. Anderson and James F. Reed — plunged into local politics as the result of the interest they generated in working on the forum, and were successful in winning election to the city council last month.

The turnout at this year's San Anselmo Town Meeting was not quite so large as at that of a year ago. But more than 200 were on hand to debate what problems most needed solving and what solutions should be suggested. That is community participation worth applauding.

SOLVING MAJOR LOCAL problems is slow and difficult. Those who seek quick, easy answers are doomed to disappoinment. But with a town meeting each year, attention can be kept directed on the problems so they do not get "swept under the rug" and forgotten.

Fairfax, which has had more than its share of misunderstandings between city officials and public, stands to benefit mightily from such a forum. At the very least, it should bring some clarity to local issues that tend to become fogged by quarreling among a few people. It is, we think, a little unfortunate that it will not be held before the June 4 election on the proposed Fairfax civic center bond issue.

But Fairfax is not alone in needing such an approach. San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley, any of Marin's cities (yes, even little Belvedere and Ross) could be benefited by a town meeting. The very organization of such a meeting indicates a concern with community problems that bodes well for their eventual solution.

Congress Comes By Turtle Pace To Do What Has To Be Done

The president did not overstate it when he said failure to pass the tax increase would be a "ticket to disaster."

The congressional rescurers didn't arrive by jet or by train or by horseback. They walked, often backwards.

But what couldn't be safely put off any longer is coming into being — thanks to Johnson's frantic arm-waving and arm-twisting.

We have reason to draw a deep sigh of relief, as does most of the rest of the world, which has nearly as great a stake in the stability of the dollar as the U. S. itself.

The action is crucially welcome and equal to the need not because in on sweep everything is going to be put in order, but because both the president and the Congress are showing that they are determined to bring the federal deficit under control and arrest the march of inflation.

THE NEW budget-trimming, tax increase measure is not an instant cure-all, but it has decisive value because it reverses the trend, demonstrates that the U. S. is determined to manage its fiscal affairs soundly and defuse the overheated economy.

But the process by which Congress is finally coming to its willingness to do what needs to be done has been marked by such delay, such fumbling, and such political spinelessness that we ought to learn some lessons from the spectacle of inaction during the last 18 critical months.

CONGRESS HAS never created for itself the mechanism to take an overall look at the total federal budget and it never relates total revenue to total expenditure. It appropriates piecemeal and never examines the total product. Congress avows it wants to trim the budget, but because it is created piecemeal by separate committees, each committee wants to keep its own and cut somewhere else. Congress can never exert its full power of control over the purse until it repairs this deficiency.

If it is the proper role of the government to stimulate the economy when needed — as most now agree that it is and as Congress did in 1964 when it cut taxes — then it is essential that government act to restrain the economy when needed.

STIMULATING the economy is politically popular and therefore politically easy. Restraining the economy is politically unpopular and therefore politically difficult. Cutting taxes is fun, as it was right on the eve of the 1964 elections. Raising taxes is painful, right on the eve of the 1968 elections. Spending is fun for most congressmen. Cutting spending is apinful for most congressmen.

All of this is why for more than a year Congress has ducked and dodged every plea the president has made to do its part in defending the stability of the dollar.

But if the government, especially the Congress, is going to eagerly embrace half of the New Economics by relishing its opportunity to cut taxes and spurn the other half by resisting raising taxes, then we are really in for trouble, then we are headed for the worst of both worlds because no nation can long prosper half-Keynesian and half-laissez faire.

All of the economic conditions that demand restraint on the economy are visible today and have been visible for more than a year. We are at the point of nearly full employment. Serious inflation isn't just around the corner; it's here. Our net exports have nosedived because of high costs.

Clean-Cut Types Litter Campus

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What is wrong?

Permit me the following observation.

Last Saturday there was a tennis tournament on the College of Marin courts between players of junior colleges.

The score board was kept by several middle-aged gentlemen, whom I assume were either the physical education instructors or tennis coaches of these colleges. The players were nice young fellows, usually referred to as cleancut American types. Yet they managed to litter the adjoining green with orange peels, paper bags paper cups, and other sundry garbage. The educators kept a benign silence. Are they scared of their charges, or don't they know any better themselves? In which way do these young men differ from the hippies? I hear they clean up after themselves pretty well. And I don't like dirty feet either.

Critics Of Daley Should Recall Nazis

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Several weeks ago Mayor Charles Daley of Chicago proclaimed that he would order his police to shoot to kill all arsonists and shoot to maim all looters. For this the mayor was taken to task most severely by various religious and liberal groups and labeled a racist. . . .

It might be well if these misguided and ill-informed persons to consider Germany of the 1930s. A militant band of persons there wearing brown shirts considered themselves above the law of their land. From a small minority they grew into a small army. They smashed and looted stores and savagely beat the proprietors. This pattern of violence was repeated in city after city. Public apathy and the police who were ordered to look the other way said and did nothing and Adolph Hitler rode into power. The moral persons who aided and abeted this and the police who looked the other way all paid a fearful price. Hitler did not permit anyone to disobey any of the laws of his "new order" whether moral or not. There were no more riots, smashed shops, or impromptu marches. The "moral" persons left who protested were all marched off to concentration camps to serve the fuhrer with a pick and shovel where a protest was unknown except as a shortcut to the whipping post or the firing squad. . . .

No person in America of any race should be above or below the law, nor should their permission be asked for them to obey the law. . . . When a man's property isn't safe neither is his life. A nation that is ready for anarchy is ready for a dictator and deserves one. Let us hope we never awaken to learn we neither deserve nor fare better.

Teacher-Father Deserves Censure

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If the report in your April 30 issue is correct, namely that the Drake student daughter of Tam teacher Richard Mason was suspended for an unexcused absence to attend an anti-draft rally, then it seems to me that Mr. Mason, as well, deserves severe censure and discipline for his utterance that "it's another example of the flagrant authority the youngsters resent tremendously."

Since when is the state law regarding compulsory school attendance "Flagrant adult authority": I can think of no worse qualifications for a teacher than those of (1) disrespect for laws, and (2) disrespect for the school boards and administrators who are empowered to enforce the attendance laws so that our schools can function as educational institutions, rather than as staging areas for protestors.

Since my tax money helps to pay teachers' salaries, I feel compelled to submit to the Tamalpais Board of Trustees that I and my children can do without the likes of Mr. Mason. . . .

Drake Students Have Proved Regard

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Two weeks ago the subject of a student anti-draft demonstration came up at our house. The demonstration was to take place during school hours. We have never forbidden our 15-year-old to participate in peace marches — indeed he has done so. We did point out that to participate in this particular demonstration would involve breaking rules and regulations (of the schools) which had no connection whatever with the purpose of the demonstration (protesting the draft and U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.) It seemed illogical and pointless.

We told our son that if he took part, he would have to accept responsibility for his actions and face whatever consequences the school felt necessary. We were quite positive that such a decision would involve serious thinking on his part because he is a student at Drake High School and we had great and, in the light of later events, well-founded faith in a man named Harold Allsion.

As a parent I have seen two years worth of evidence that Drake High School is an almost unbelievably good school. While completing requirements for a secondary teaching credential, I saw Drake from the inside — as a teacher — for one semester. . .

I can't speak for the students of Drake, but I do remember something that occurred two years ago that indicates how a good many of them feel about their principal. Radio Station KYA ran a contest to find the best high school principal in the Bay Area on the basis of student vote. Teen-aged listeners were told that they might send in as many cards on behalf of their candidate as they wished. It became a "cause" at Drake. Students devoted boundless energy and uncounted hours to the task. They submitted the name of Harold Allsion 2,000,000 times. That is not a misprint; they sent in two million cards. Let's stack that up against the opinions of the few who are making so much noise now.

Students Defend Redwood Principal

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We, a group of Redwood High School students, want to express our opinion of our principal, Mr. (Donald) Kreps. We feel that Mr. Kreps is an excellent and fair-minded principal, and the newspaper has printed misinformation about him. Those of us here who know Mr. Kreps would like the public to know that the recent articles published don't give a fair picture of his attitudes.

CONSIDER WHY YOU ARE IMPORTANT

If repeated setbacks cause you to ask, "What's the use?" take time out for a prayerful reading of these penetrating words of John Henry Newman:

"God created me to do Him some definite service; He has committed some work to me which He has not committed to another. I have my mission . . .

"I am a link in a chain, a bond of connection between persons. He has not created me for naught. I shall do good. I shall do His work. I shall be an angel of peace, a preacher of truth . . ."

"Therefore I will trust Him. Whatever, wherever I am, I can never be thrown away. If I am in sickness, my sickness may serve Him; in perplexity, my perplexity may serve Him; if I am in sorrow, my sorrow may serve Him. He does nothing in vain. He knows what He is about."

Centuries ago St. Paul stressed the importance of each person to God and consequently to man:

"None of us lives to himself, and none of us dies to himself."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State's Account Juggling Costs $12 Million Per Year In Interest

By HENRY C. MacARTUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More than one million dollars a month during the 1967-68 fiscal year was diverted from the state's general fund for interest payments, as the result of borrowing by the general fund to meet current obligations.

This was revealed in a report by Houston I. Flournoy, state controller, who said the general fund has repaid all of the $518 million it borrowed six weeks ahead of schedule, thereby enabling "savings of $1,508,042 of the amount appropriated for interest on the loans."

THE GENERAL FUND was indebted to special funds about $194 million at the beginning of the fiscal year, and the Legislatrue last year made provision for repayment of the money out of current revenues.

Flournoy said "tax receipts have been greater than expected," consequently the general fund was able to pay off sooner than expected.

This practice of state financing has been going on for a good many years, but the controller's office says it has not been much of a problem except for the last two years.

THE PROBLEM or running out of cash was aggravated by adoption of the accrual system of accounting by the Legislature, a system which permits funding on the basis of what cash is coming into the treasury, rather than cash on hand.

However, the state can't pay its bills on an accrual basis, so is forced to expend a million dollars a month or so of the taxpayers' money so it can hand cash to the creditors.

All of which is fine for the bookkeeping system, but hardly palpable for the millions of citizens who were hit by increased taxes this year to maintain the figure of juggling and increase the cash in the special funds maintained in the state treasury.

There is no fixed rate of interest paid on these borrowings. The general fund pays the special funds the amount the special funds would receive on the loans if deposited in banks or other financial houses. This year, the interest cost, according to Flournoy, amounts to $12,831,015 as compared to $11,401,591 the previous fiscal year.

Czech Move To Freedom Frightens Neighbor Land

By HAROLD MARTIN

WARSAW (UPI) — Poland has viewed changes in Czechoslovakia with open apprehension, perhaps because more than any nation in the Socialist bloc she has the most to fear from them.

During student demonstrations against the Polish cultural policy last March, one of the slogans was "all of Poland is waiting for its Dubcek." Alexander Dubcek is the new liberal Communist leader in Czechoslovakia.

There have been strong currents of dissatisfaction and envy running through Poland since Czechoslovakia began pursuing her independent road. Many political analysts feel that fear of a Czechoslovak type upheaval in Poland has been the catalyst that brought on the Polish purge, in which more than 100 persons have lost their jobs or been expelled from the party.

POLAND HAS openly expressed in the press her concern about "anti-socialist" trends in the Czechoslovakian changes.

CZECHS AND POLES, despite proximity, or perhaps because of it, have never been too close friends.

In 1956, when Poland and Hungary were both having painful changes, the story is told of Czechs blocking Polish ambulances being sent to aid the Hungarian insurgents.

But even more important than traditional differences is the Polish recent leadership's devotion to socialist solidarity and friendship with the Soviet Union.

Piece Of Swampland Was Bargain; Corte Madera Residents Now Agree

Almost 30 years ago and over considerable objection, the Town of Corte Madera bought nearly 23 acres for a town park for $3,963.

The purchase came only after the town attorney asked the treasurer and the clerk if the purchase price exceeded the town's current yearly income.

Assured it did not, the council made the buy.

Today, the town thinks it was a wise decision and is unwilling to sell the property at the same price. Or for half a million dollars more, for that matter.

THE THEN SWAMPLAND was purchased Nov. 6, 1939, from the Hugh B. Porter family. Fill-in began shortly after in the southwest corner, resulting in construction of a baseball diamond and bleachers. Profit opportunities immediately tempted the town. In July of 1942, according to research of the park's history by Col. John R. Vance, present town treasurer, a developer offered $2,000 cash and 30 acres east of the park in exchange for the 23 acres.

The town declined this offer. It did likewise in 1945, when the county board of supervisors lusted somewhat for the same acreage, plus other nearby swamplands, for a county fairgrounds site.

A year later, the town's volunteer firemen presented a master plan for development of the park, then donated $1,000 for preliminary work. A proposal to sell a portion of the land for commercial purposes was defeated in a 1947 election, and two years later work was started on a "tiny tot" playground. The $1,000 donation was spent on playground equipment.

Restroom were built, and in 1950, the town leased a building site to the Corte Madera Sanitary District with the agreement that a building the district would erect would become the property of the town.

IN 1951, the town traded 5½ acres to the Larkspur School District for 3½ acres of adjacent land to enable the district to have a school site that would qualify for state aid, according to Vance's research. The following year, the town acquired a second building by permitting the Lions Club to erect what is now known as the Corte Madera Recreation Center, across the street from the sanitary district-built structure.

Corte Madera got more buildings than she did swimmings pools, however. In a special election in 1957, a $150,000 bond issue for a pool was defeated. In 1960, the non-swimming-minded populace defeated a second pool bond issue. A precise plan for development of the park, however, was approved.

Since that time, a special park tax has risen to 15 cents per $100 assessed property valuation. This provides an annual income of about $30,000, according to Arthur N. Morrison, director of public works. It also has made possible a proposed five-year park improvement program which involves construction of a west parking lot and two picnic areas, plus moving the playground, this year.

IN 1968-69, plans include automation of the irrigation system, drainage improvements, windbreaks for tennis courts earlier provided by the Lions Club, and irrigation and top soil work in the east area. The following year, according to the plan, would see more development of the east section.

For 1970-71, a lagoon is scheduled for construction in the northwest section, along with additional irrigation installations there. Further landscaping work, including paths and trees, would follow in 1971-72, along with construction of a teen center.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Reasons Behind Laws For Teachers' Tenure

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

These laws make it extremely difficult to dismiss a public school teacher, closely limit and specify the causes that can be grounds for dismissal, and, since 1961, provide no probationary period during which principal and supervisors can decide whether a newly hired teacher should be kept in the district.

Yet, the law providing tenure for teachers when rehired for their fourth year in a district has been on the books since 1941. And that which extends virtually the same protection to the newly hired teacher is now in its seventh year.

SURELY, THERE must be reasons.

There are. The reason for the initial teacher tenure law goes back into what is now virtually ancient history, to a time when each school district had a great deal of autonomy and California's Education Code was far smaller than the nearly 2,000 pages it comprises today.

In those days, the district board — with advice of the superintendent — would decide each spring which teachers should be rehired for the next school year and which should be let go. (This annual "evaluation session" survives to this day, as a sort of formalized genuflection in the direction of long-lost home rule.)

BECAUSE SOME school trustee's daughter or niece was completing her studies for a teaching credential and wanted a job, someone might be left go to make room for her. A coach might lose his job because of a poor football season. Or a teacher might find himself looking for new employment because he flunked a trustee's son or daughter.

Such things caused teachers to feel that their jobs were in constant political jeopardy. So, through their organizations, they campaigned for tenure rights.

The California law granting permanent tenure to a teacher when he was hired for his fourth year in a district was hailed by the California Teachers Association as a great victory when it was passed in 1941.

HOWEVER, a small shortcoming soon appeared. In a few districts, a practice grew up of keeping teachers just three years, dropping them before they achieved tenure. From this arose agitation — with the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers carrying the ball this time — which resulted in the "instant tenure" law of 1961.

There is no way to arrive at how many teachers were unfairly dropped in the old days before tenure. There is no way to judge accurately how many were unfairly denied tenure before 1961. In the latter case, however, the abuses seem to have been principally by a few elementary school districts in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys. In most districts, the attrition during the first three years was rather less than one would expect in jobs calling for extensive skills, maturity, and judgment.

Since enactment of "instant tenure," the attrition rate has dropped off markedly, of course.

AS IT STANDS NOW, if a principal or superintendent finds a teacher unsuitable, about all he can do is try to persuade the teacher he would be happier somewhere else.

If he succeeds in this, what then?

The teacher applies to other districts. The superintendent of one of them writes for an evaluation.

Does the superintendent who wants to get rid of the teacher then report he is unsatisfactory? Of course not. As one frankly admitted to the writer in such a case, "I had to give him a good reference or we couldn't get rid of him."

Thus the problem is merely passed from one district to another, and superintendents are forced to lie to get rid of unsatisfactory teachers.

Another Six Miners Survive Entombment

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) —Six coal miners, trapped nearly 10 days two miles deep in a flooded mine shaft, were rescued early today and were termed "all in good shape."

They had been given up for dead since there had been no word from them since they were trapped.

FOUR DEAD

The other four trapped with them since May 6 were found dead and their bodies were due to be brought out later today. Work had continued around the clock to reach the 10 men though they were feared dead.

Another 15 miners, isolated a mile away and one mile from the mine's entrance, were rescued last Saturday.

The six were given a quick checkup at the mine entrance by Dr. Lee B. Todd and then rushed to Sacred Heart hospital in Richwood, 15 miles away.

The six reached the mine entrance about 1 a.m. PDT and paused for a prayer at the opening of the long horizontal shaft that bores into the foot of a mountain.

MEDICAL CHECKS

At the three-story hospital, the men were shielded from newsmen while doctors checked them and they talked with their families.

"Thank God he's alive," said Mrs. Okie Galford of Baltimore, sister of John Moore, Jr. "We gave up hope after all this time, and we still can't believe it. He's my only brother and he better not go down that damned mine again."

Beside's Moore, the other five rescued were Joe E. Fitzwater, 33, of Rupert, whose brother barely escaped being trapped; Jennings H. Lilly, 30, of Mount Nebo; Edward F. Scarbro, 38, of Richwood; Gene H. Martin, 34, of Clintonville; and Larry Lynch, 28, of Richwood. All of their homes are near the mine.

LONG CRAWL

The men had to crawl 800 yards through the 36-inch high tunnel to reach a battery-operated mine cart. This took them to a conveyor belt, normally used for hauling coal, and they rode it a half-mile to the mine's entrance.

H. E. Sundstrom of the Gauley Coal and Coke Co., which operates the mine, said the car hit a deep hole and jumped the track but he said the three men in it "were in good enough shape to lift it and put it back on the track."

Binoculars Can Show First Comet For 1968

WASHINGTON (SS) — The first comet of 1968 can be seen through binoculars in the constellation of Cassiopeia — near the horizon directly below the Pole Star for an observer facing north.

If the comet is approaching the sun, it should get brighter, and perhaps be visible to the unaided eye. That will not be known until an orbit is calculated. Present observations, according to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, Cambridge, Mass., may be enough for a rough calculation, but it will take a few more days to prepare it.

Just A Bad Headache From Bullets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Aside from what he calls a nagging headache, Dr. Ralph B. Williams, 57, was listed in "good condition" at St. Mary's Hospital today with five bullets in his head.

Williams, a bacteriologist with the Alaskan Health Department, did not know he had been shot until 15 hours after he was knocked down by two youths in the Tenderloin District early Monday.

Mrs. Williams arrived yesterday from Juneau to be with her husband as doctors marked time to see whether any of the metal moves and if abscesses form. The slugs were identified as .25 caliber.

Police said they still have no clues to the assailants whom Williams had thought only roughed him up. He said he had no money on him.

He had no recollection of being shot as he returned to his hotel from a movie. After the incident he hailed a cab and went to his room where he stayed until — at the urging of the hotel manager — he decided to see a doctor at 3 p.m.

Dr. Dudley Fournier said Williams had dried blood spots on his swollen face and appeared to have been beaten.

The doctor ordered X-rays to determine if there had been any fractures, and was amazed when the radiologist called and said: "This man has a head full of lead."

"Anyone who is shot once in the head and lives is unique, but five times . . ." said Dr. Fournier with awe.

Cost-Of-Credit Bill Clears Major Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — An eight-year Capitol Hill battle to enact a landmark cost-of-credit disclosure bill is within three steps of what President Johnson termed "a great victory for the American consumer."

Senate-House conferees reached final agreement yesterday, after weeks of work, on a compromise measure requiring that most borrowers be told the dollar-and-cents cost of credit on loans and purchases.

Sponsors said there is no question the House and Senate will approve the compromise version of the bill, probably next week.

Under the measure those extending credit or making consumer loans would have to disclose two things on most transactions:

The battle for the legislation began in 1960 when it first was introduced by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill.

It finally was passed 92 to 0 last July 11 by the Senate, and 382 to 4 on Feb. 1 this year by the House.

But the House added a number of provisions to the measure and this led to a long-drawn-out conference. Most of the House items were retained in the final version but several were revisd.

The Senate voted to allow them to state only the monthly interest rate, often 1½ per cent. But the House insisted on an annual rate which would be 18 per cent if the monthly charge were 1½ per cent.

Marijuana Case To Juvenile Court

James Douglas Steele, 18, of Novato, was certified to juvenile court from Marin Municipal Court Tuesday to face a charge that he possessed marijuana in San Rafael April 25.
